Held for Reminiscence in 1961 SPECTRUM

Fall, Winter, Spring Activities Recorded

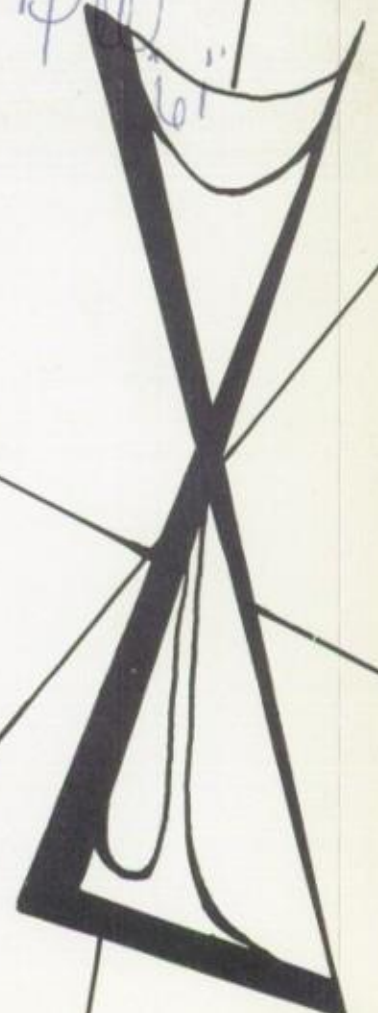

Another year has gone by, too quickly for most. Time ran out without anyone realizing it had gone. From the first football game to the announcing of senior class valedictorian, memories have grown hazy. Details of happenings which seem to have occurred only yesterday now are difficult to recall. Now comes the opportunity to relive those and other events so vitally a part of the past year. May this 1961 SPECTRUM bring back the year that passed so swiftly.

Students and Teachers

Early morning, half-empty parking lot, the sun has not yet risen—Southwestern's students and teachers start the day early.

When the final bell rings, most students leave as so many blurs.

Often Rise Before Sun to Start Long Day

To hungry students at lunchtime the cafeteria line can seem awfully l-o-n-g.

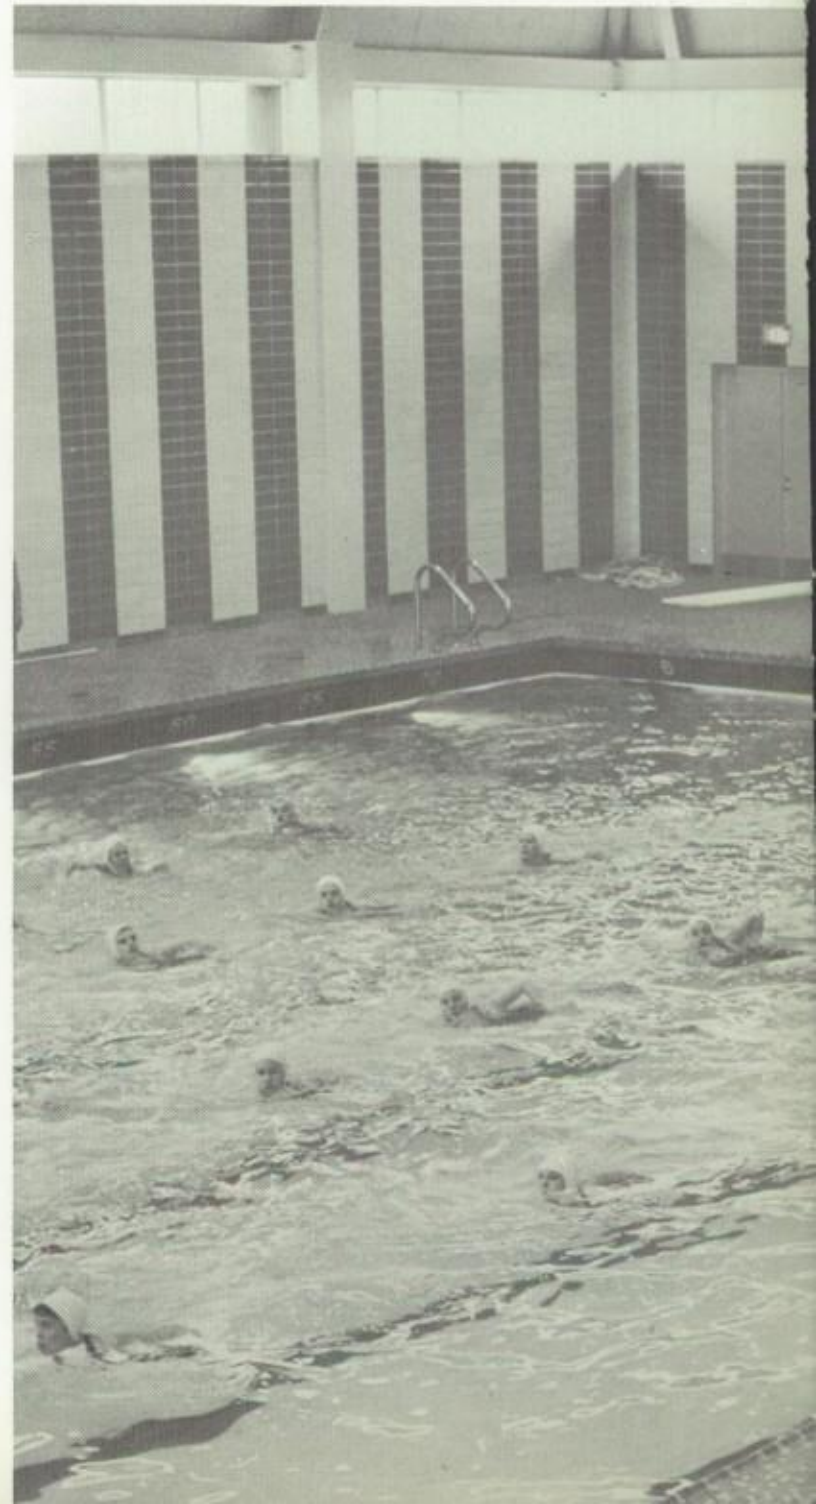

Teen Club Offers Students Mid-Week Break;

The cafeteria, too, gets its use. Bumper pool and ping pong are available to interested Teen Club members.

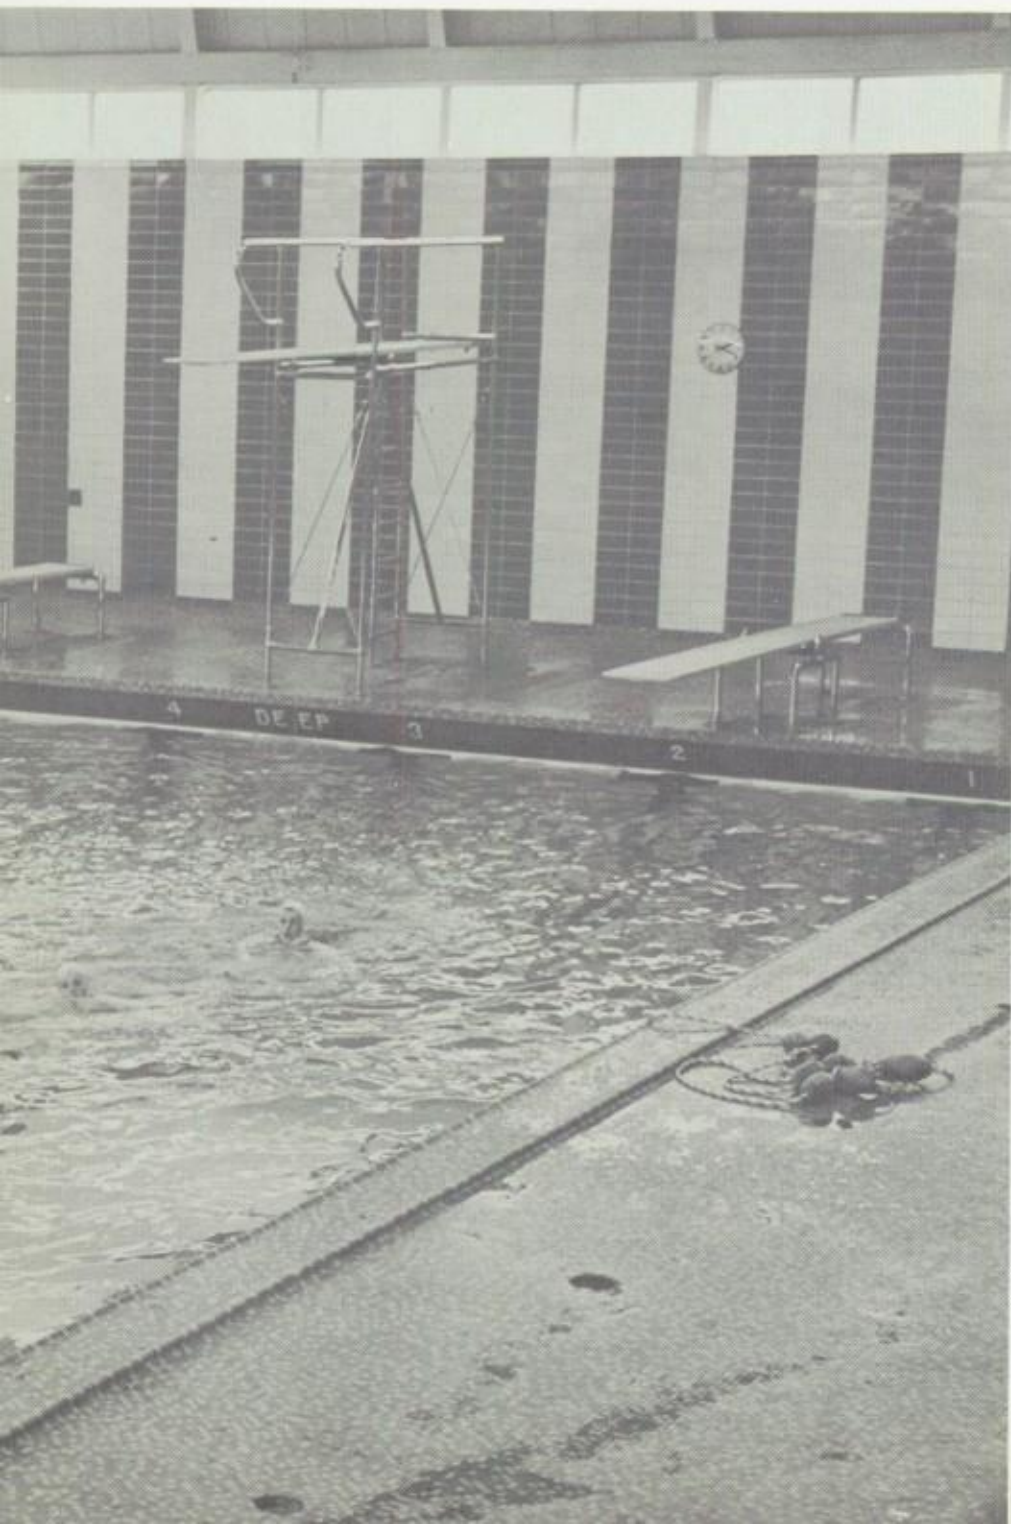

Night time never finds Southwestern vacant. Even the gym is always busy, as these Teen-Clubbers show.

Adult Classes Continue

Adults come to school after the teenagers have left. Mott classes, from sewing to science, are held nightly at Southwestern.

The swimming pool is in almost constant use. In the daytime there are gym and synchronized swimming classes. Teen Club swimming and Mott classes are held in the evening and on Saturday afternoons.

Many Curious and Interesting Views of Newest addition to Southwestern is the blue and yellow Sky-Walk which allows students to cross Twelfth Street and the railroad tracks without interfering with traffic or endangering their lives.

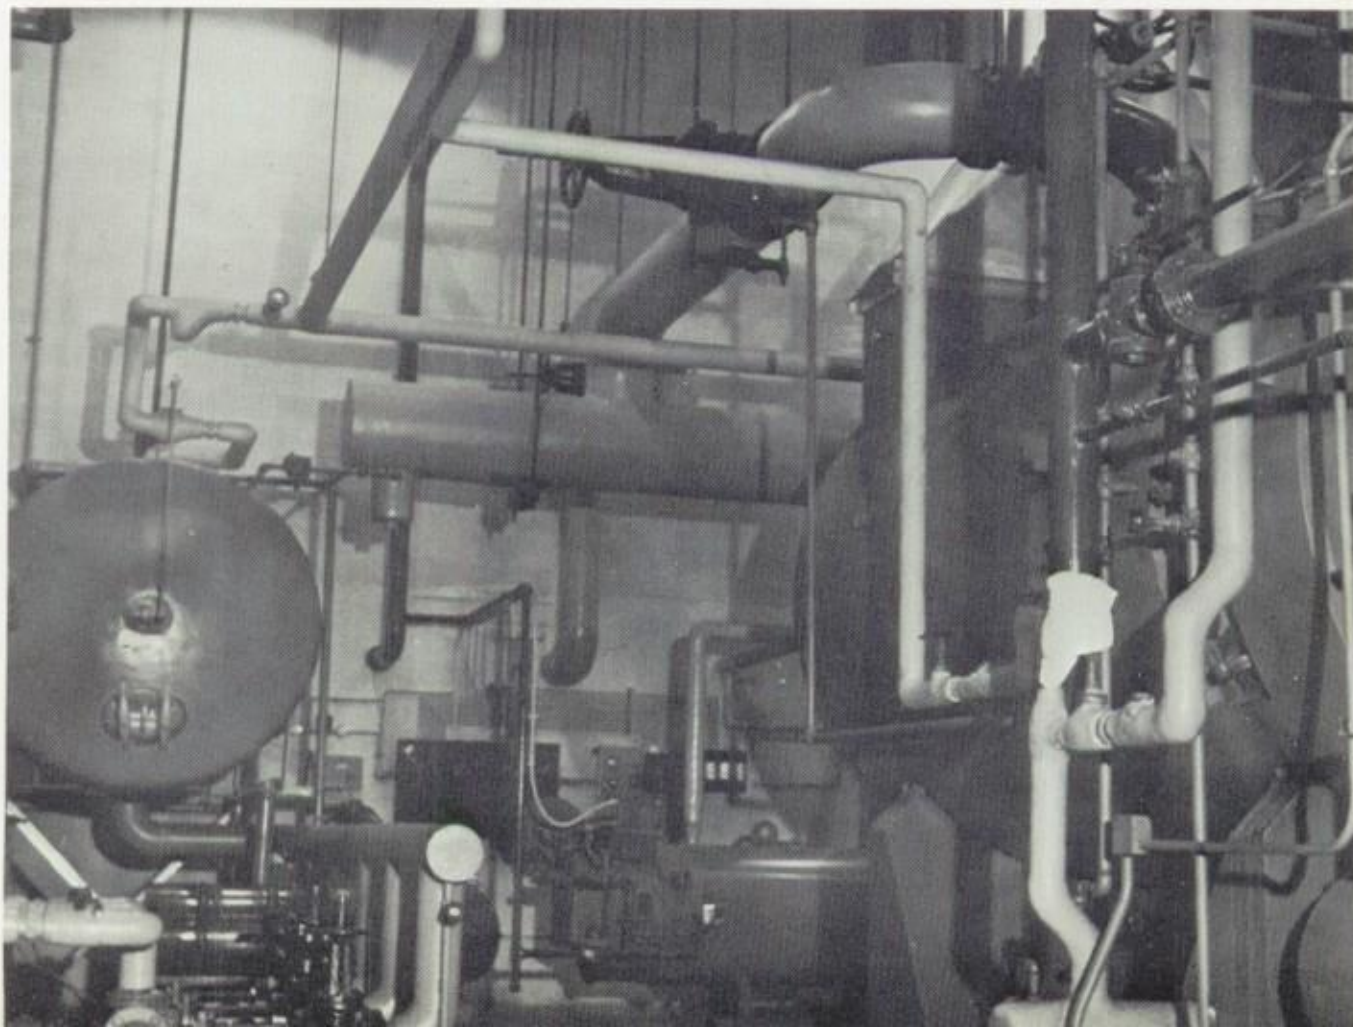

A different picture of Southwestern students resulted in the photographer's effort to show the gate which is used to close off the academic end of the building when activities are taking place in the recreational section.

Southwestern Often Go Unnoticed

Who left an alarm clock in the middle of the hall? Or do your eyes deceive you?

Powerful equipment is required to keep the school well heated throughout the winter season.

Academics and Faculty

Administration Undergoes Revision;

We are fortunate to have such a capable and efficient Principal in the person of Mr. Hilmer Olson. Graduated from Stout Institute of Technology with an A.B. degree, he furthered his study at the University of Michigan from which he obtained his Masters Degree. His friendliness and ability to get along with everyone are his most important assets.

Responsible a great deal for the coordination of daily life at Southwestern is Mr. Garret Ebemeyer, acting in the position of Deputy Principal. Primarily in charge of the programming and enrollment of students, school organization and graduation, he also handles a variety of lesser duties, including the announcements over the P.A. system each morning, which inform the student of the day's activities.

Dean of Counseling Added

In the position of Dean of Instruction at Southwestern is Mrs. Flora Fierstine, formerly Dean of Girls. She received her Masters Degree from the University of Michigan, and for a time taught the higher sciences in high school. A congenial and efficient woman, Mrs. Fierstine carries out her duties with a cheerful, friendly attitude, always willing to help solve any problem.

The busiest member of the administrative faculty, no doubt, is Mr. James Whittaker. During his two years here, he has accomplished much, but in his role as Dean of Students Mr. Whittaker is most important. As well as helping all students with their individual problems, he has had a great deal to do with the efficient organization and order of our school.

Miss Hulda Gibson, Dean of Counseling at Southwestern, is a very important member of the administrative staff. In addition to her ordinary duties, which include all planning and counseling for the students here, she handles the Intensive Program for students of special ability to which she devotes much of her time. Always available, Miss Gibson is most anxious to help any individual with plans for the school year.

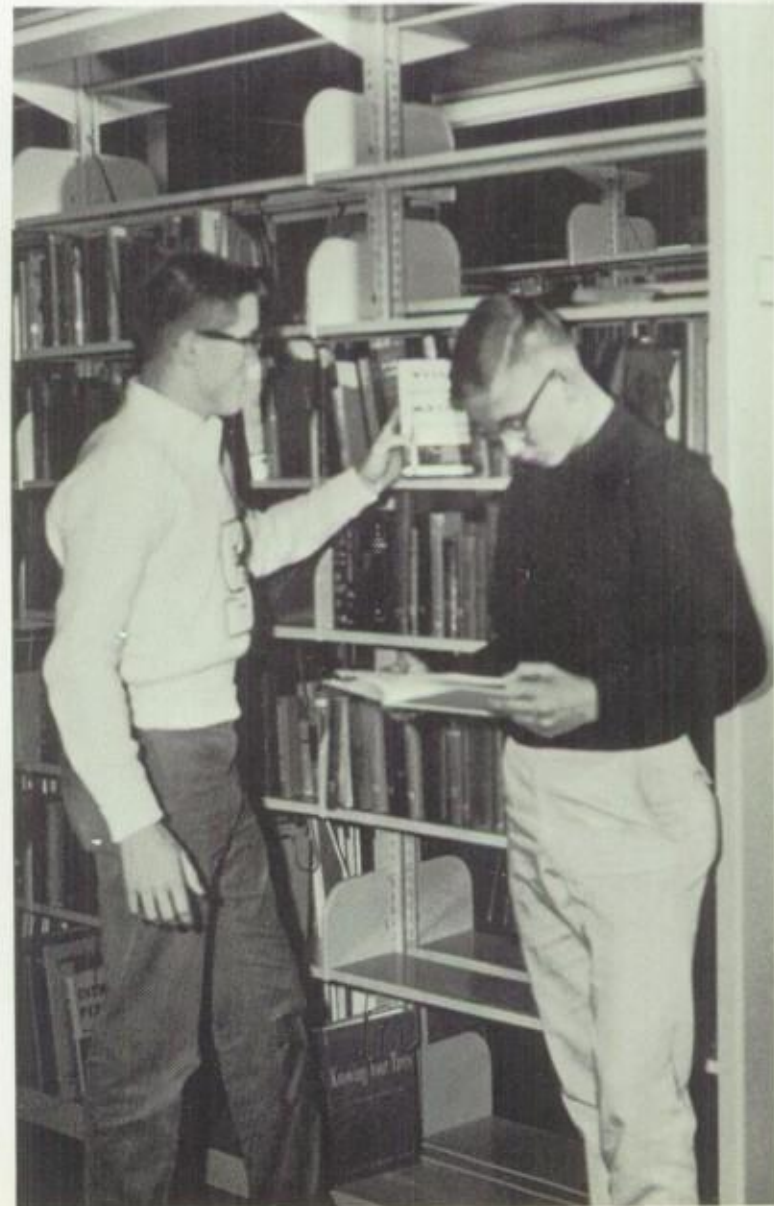

Modern Library Provides Place for

New furniture is a highlight of our school library. Enjoying the comforts are Jose' Mellus, Mike Whittaker, David Rhyndress, and Kenny Dodd.

Choosing a good book from our fiction shelves are Reed Birnie and Ed Thayer.

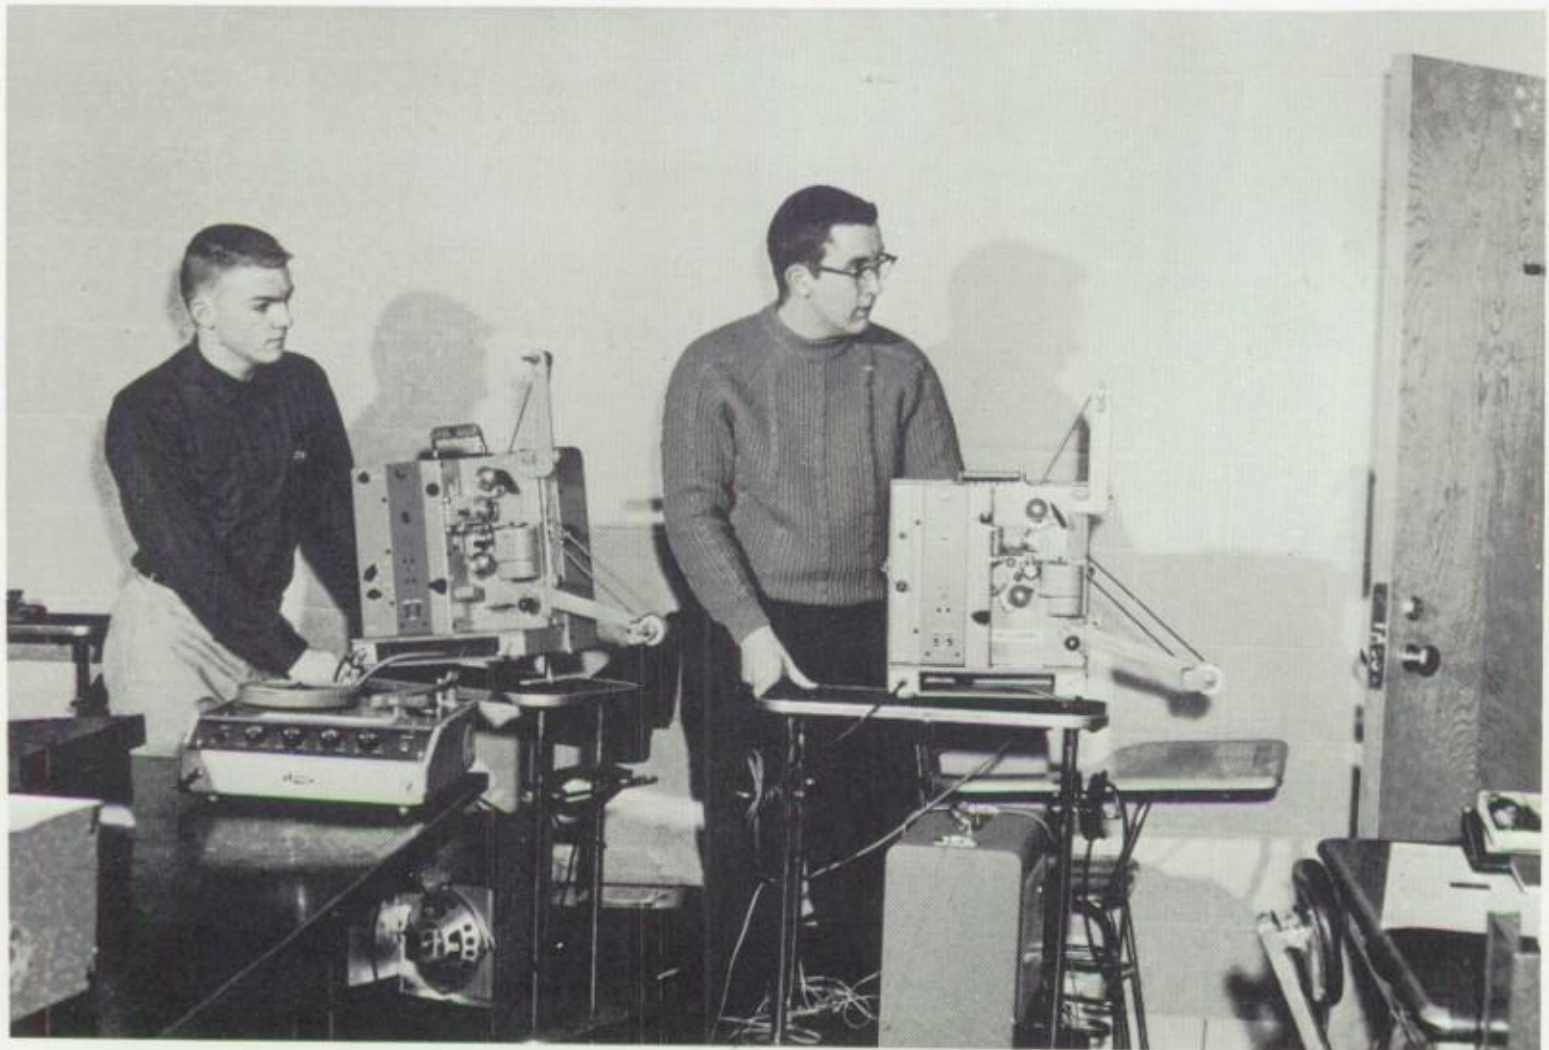

Research, Relaxation

Although the card catalogue is very often used as a gathering place, some use it for reference. Here Steve Gossett, Bill Rittenbery, and Sue Costello put it to good use.

Enjoying the quiet of the conference room are George Skaff, Christ Gutcher, Barb Morgan, Barb Wagner, and David Magdell.

Gary Williams and Ray Brandon display some of the complicated equipment available from the audio-visual room of the library.

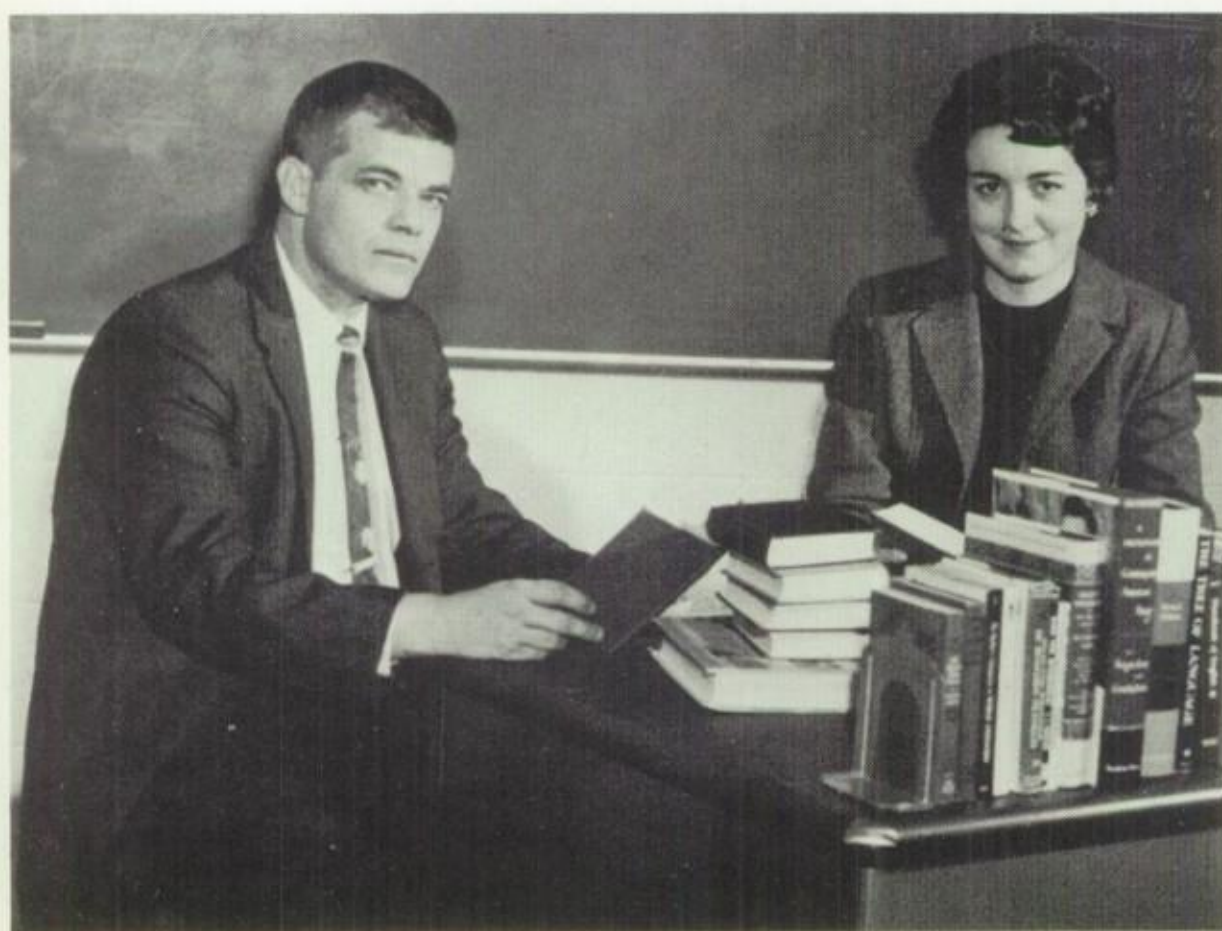

English Teachers Strive to Teach Students

Mrs. Elizabeth Calkins prepares to show her students the basic steps for an outline.

A student teacher gets "broken in" by Miss Estelle Bennett's English V students.

Homework piles up for teachers, too! Mr. Ray Henry and Miss Estelle Bennet talk amidst several of the numerous English texts available.

Communications

English V students, along with their instructor, Mr. David Sisson, listen to an oral book report.

Mr. Russell Morcom and Mr. Garth Frost, English instructors, join to talk over new methods for making English more interesting to students.

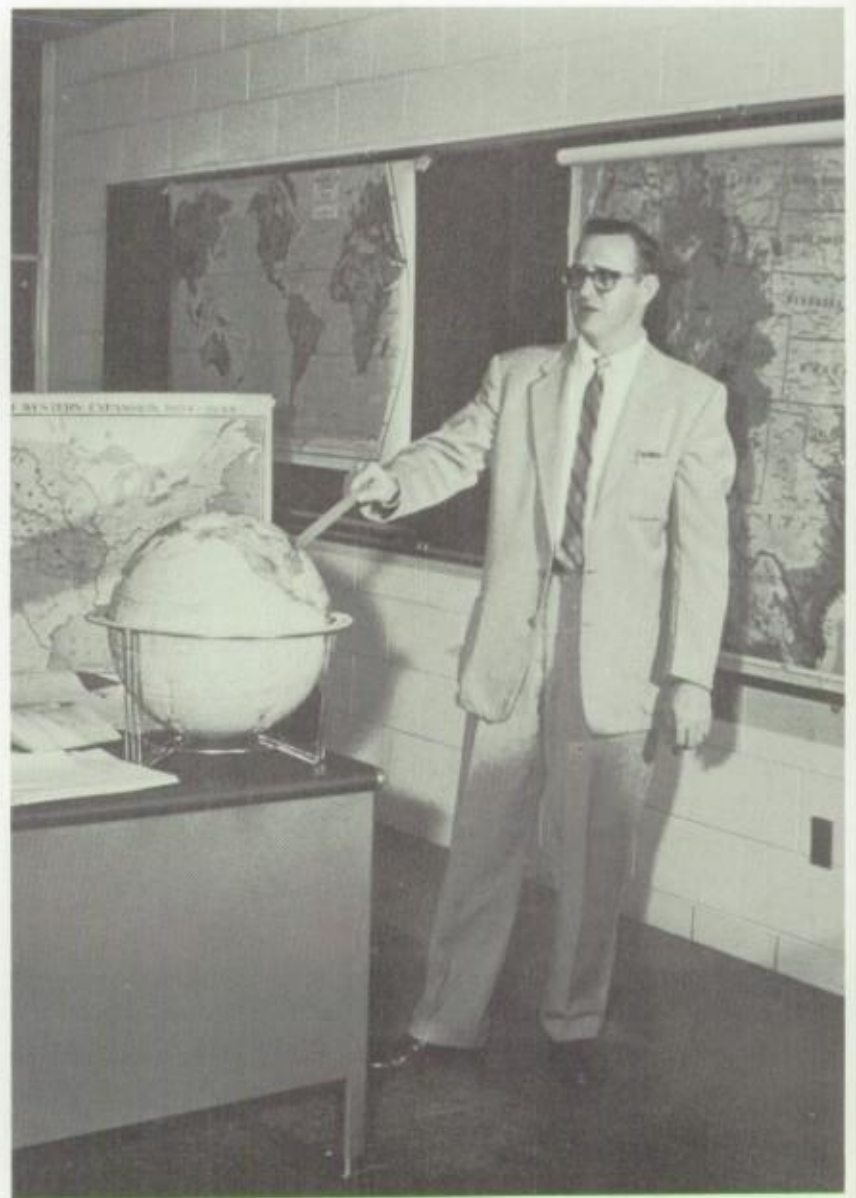

Obtaining the substantial meaning in a seemingly frivolous poem oftentimes calls for teamwork. Mr. Douglas Nietzke and Mrs. Katherine Gardner meet after school.

Study of Peoples Past Aids in

Miss Rita Hinch, head of the Social Studies department, points out to Mike Cheney, Phyllis Smith, and Bill Willbanks a recent editorial concerning a world crisis.

Mr. Alex Crane, instructor in American History, Civics, and Economic Geography, point out a trouble spot on the North American continent.

Mr. Dick Leach, Mr. George LeBrasseur, and Mr. Kenneth Green, history instructors, discuss an amusing incident which just occurred in one of their classes. Combined, they teach six different histories.

Understanding World of Today

Best wishes
Barb, I hope to see much of you next year -
J Roberson

Ron Cross and Sharon Petriken join Mr. Joe Roberson in a demonstration for psychology class. Mr. Roberson also taught intensive students a course in analysis of social and economic problems.

Explaining the value of television in teaching their classes to students Barb Huff and David Chamberlain are Mr. Vincent Abrams and Mr. Stewart Boze, instructors in U.S., American, and Early European histories.

Foreign Language Students Learn By Doing,

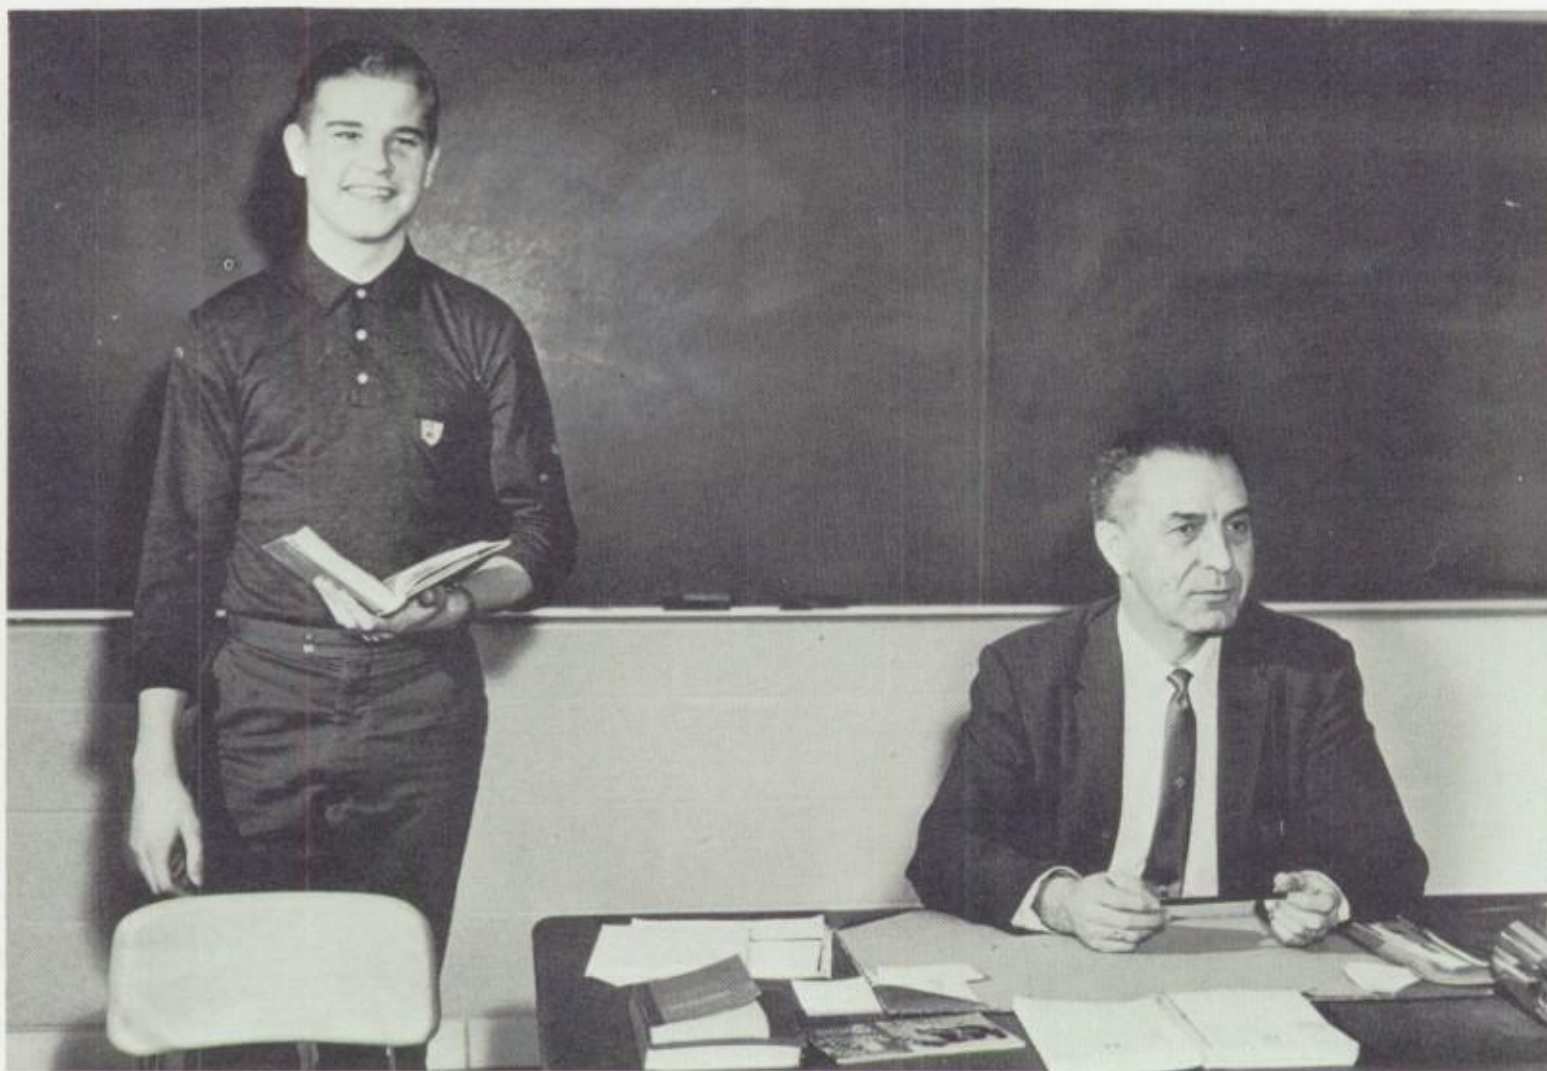

Spanish instructor Mrs. Jane Chambers shows the ear phones she uses in the language lab to students Janet Fowler, Doug Mayville, Dennis McCrandall, and Glenda Howard.

The "language lab" has been a great aid to the students studying French and Spanish. A taped dialogue is played over earphones that the students wear, with pauses for them to repeat the dialogue into microphones. The instructor listens in on a monitor. He can cut in on individuals and correct their mispronunciations. Students may now receive a thorough education not only in the written languages, but also in the oral part.

This is the teacher's view of the language lab. As you can see, the lab is already becoming overcrowded.

Find Language Lab Effective

"L'Etat C'est Moi," says Alan Groff as Mr. Robert Ellis listens for mistakes in his pronunciation of the French.

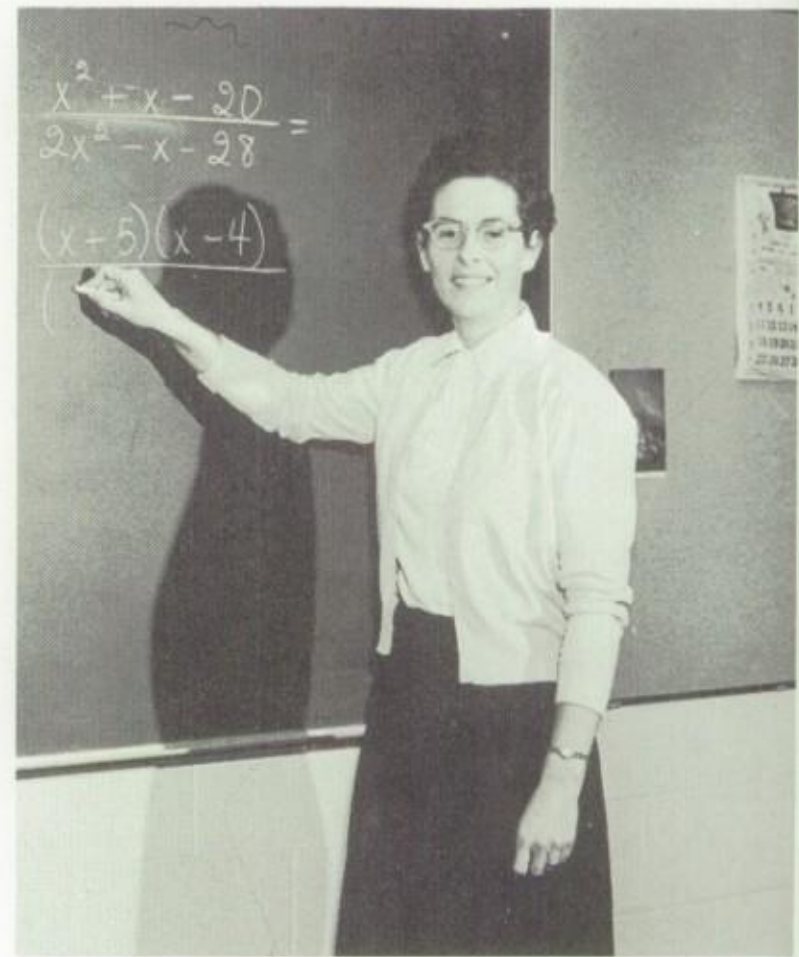

Listening intently as a teacher must is Miss Helene Burns. Seen here in her Latin class, Miss Burns also teaches all grades of Spanish.

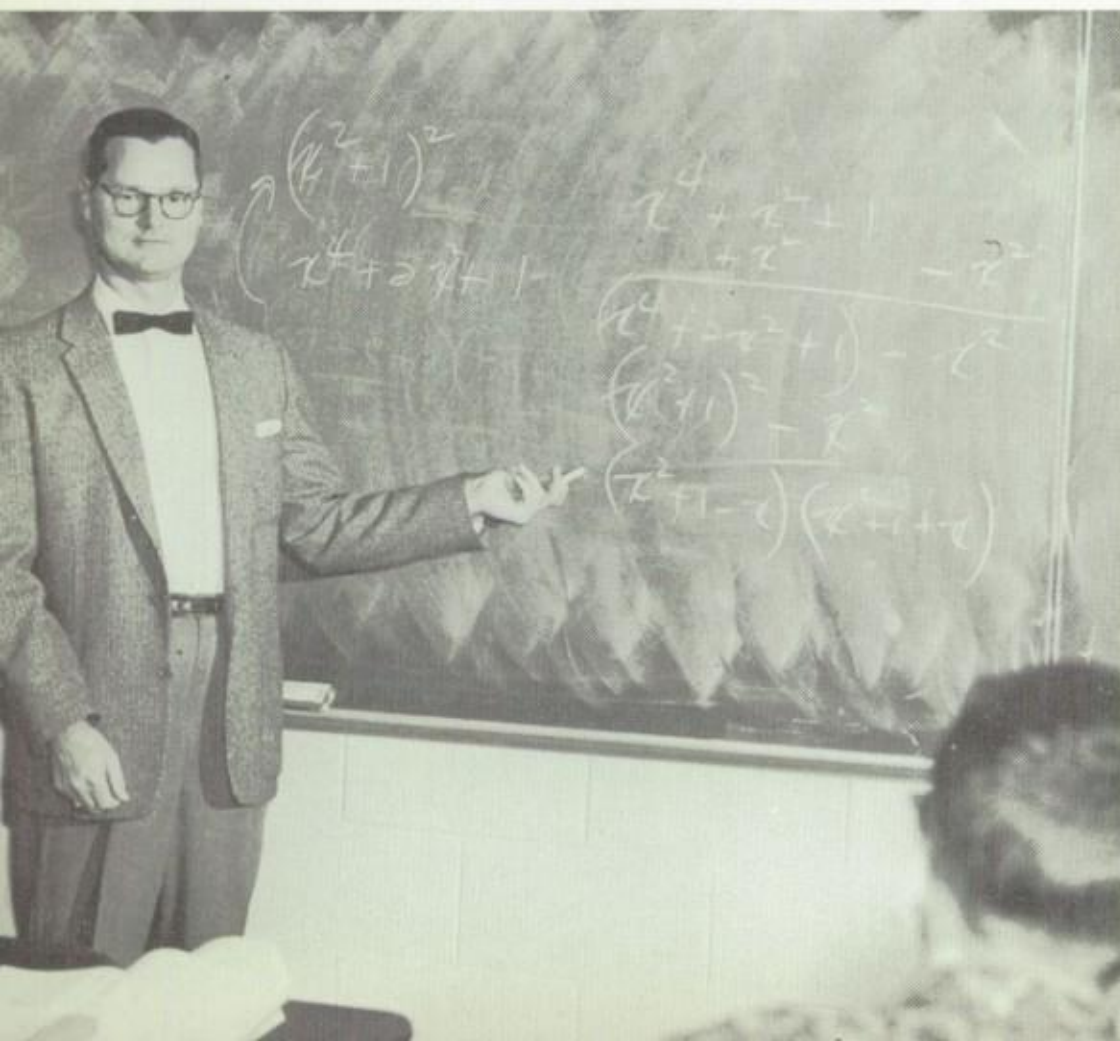

Solid, Trig, Basic Math Help to Develop

Mr. Larry McGhan, teacher of algebra and geometry, and Mr. Roy McMurray, teacher of basic math and algebra, pause outside their rooms.

Miss Katherine Anderson calls on her students for the factors of this division problem. Miss Anderson teaches algebra and basic math.

Geometry, algebra, and basic math are the subjects taught by Mr. Roy Manker. Here he reviews an algebra problem for one of his classes.

Sense of Reasoning, Logic

Meter stick in hand, Mr. John Kohlhepp gives assistance to one of his intensive students. Along with this intensive class, which combines solid geometry and trigonometry into one semester, Mr. Kohlhepp teaches two other trigonometry classes.

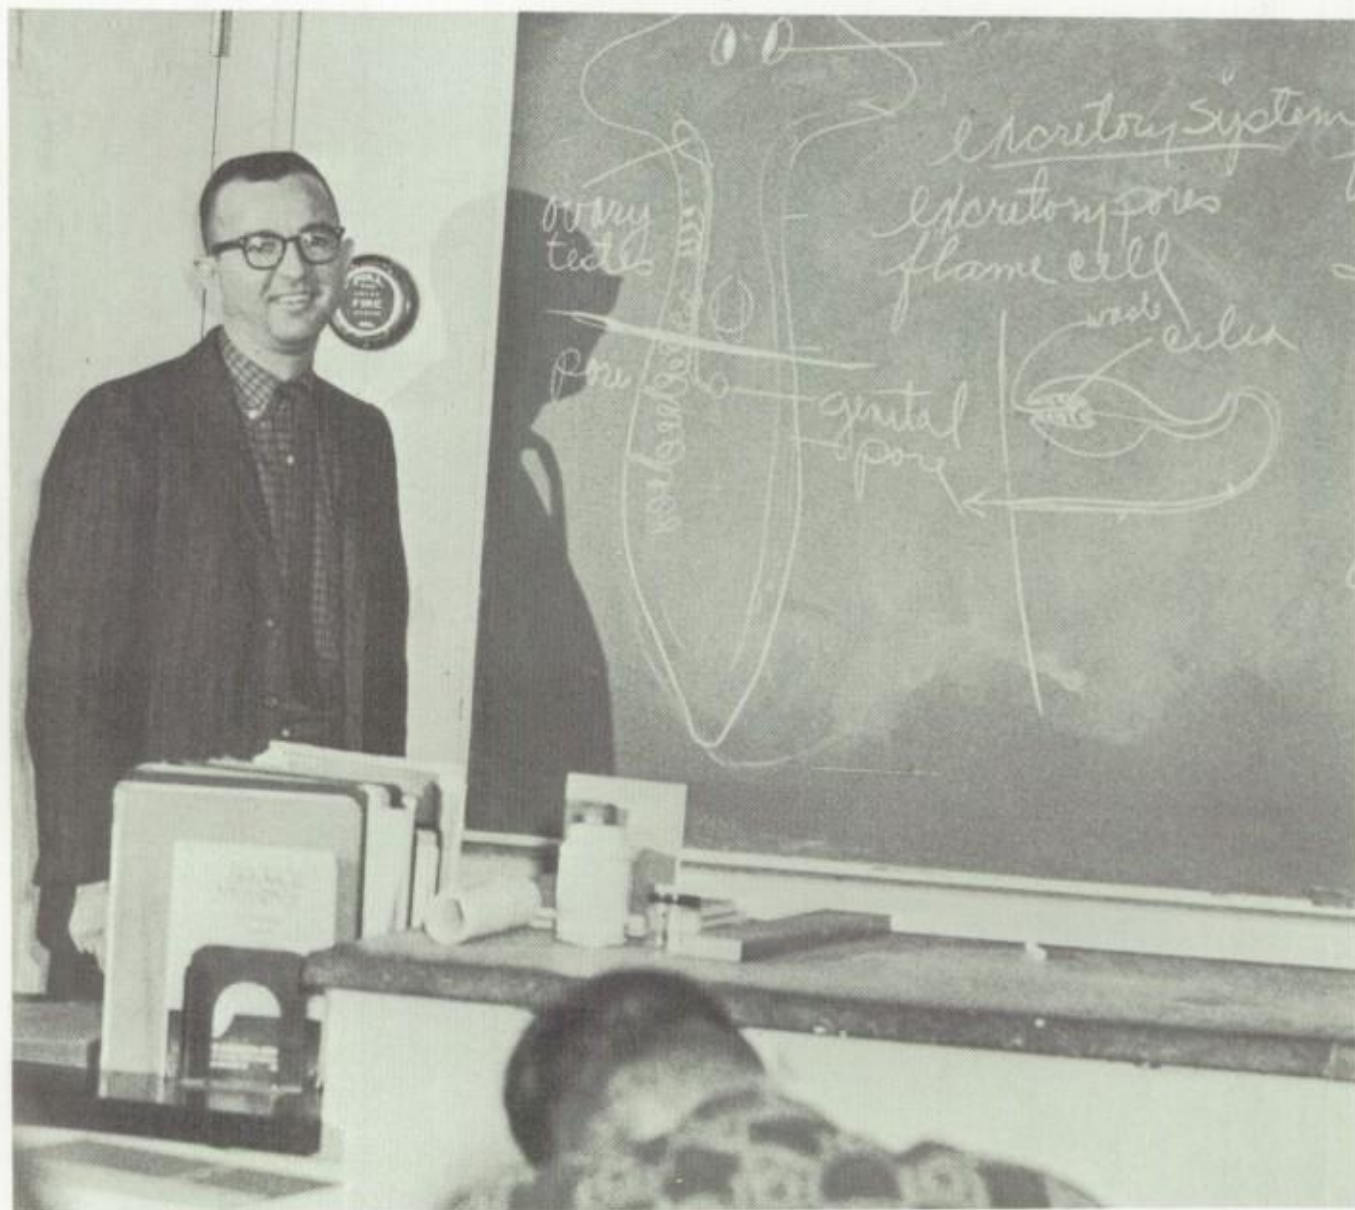

"What's the first step in this proof?" asks Mrs. Dorothy Waller of her geometry students. Teaching business math is another of her duties.

A befuddled geometry student comes to Mr. Robert Brawner for aid after school. Mr. Brawner also teaches personal math.

Sciences Give Students Opportunity

Modern science instructor Mr. William Skinner explains the excretory system to his class.

Styrofoam models for studying molecular structure of atoms have caught the attention of chemistry teachers Miss Virginia Lewis and Mr. Richard Hoag. The latter also teaches physics.

To Learn Through Experiences

A biology student dissects a frog.

Sue Mackey and Ed Graham perform an experiment with waves and coils for the P.S.S.C. physics class while Mr. James Pyne watches.

Miss Sarah Andrews, Mrs. Jacquelin Culnon, and Mr. Harry Hammond meet in the biology room to discuss their life-size model of the human body.

Music Is Serious Study for Some,

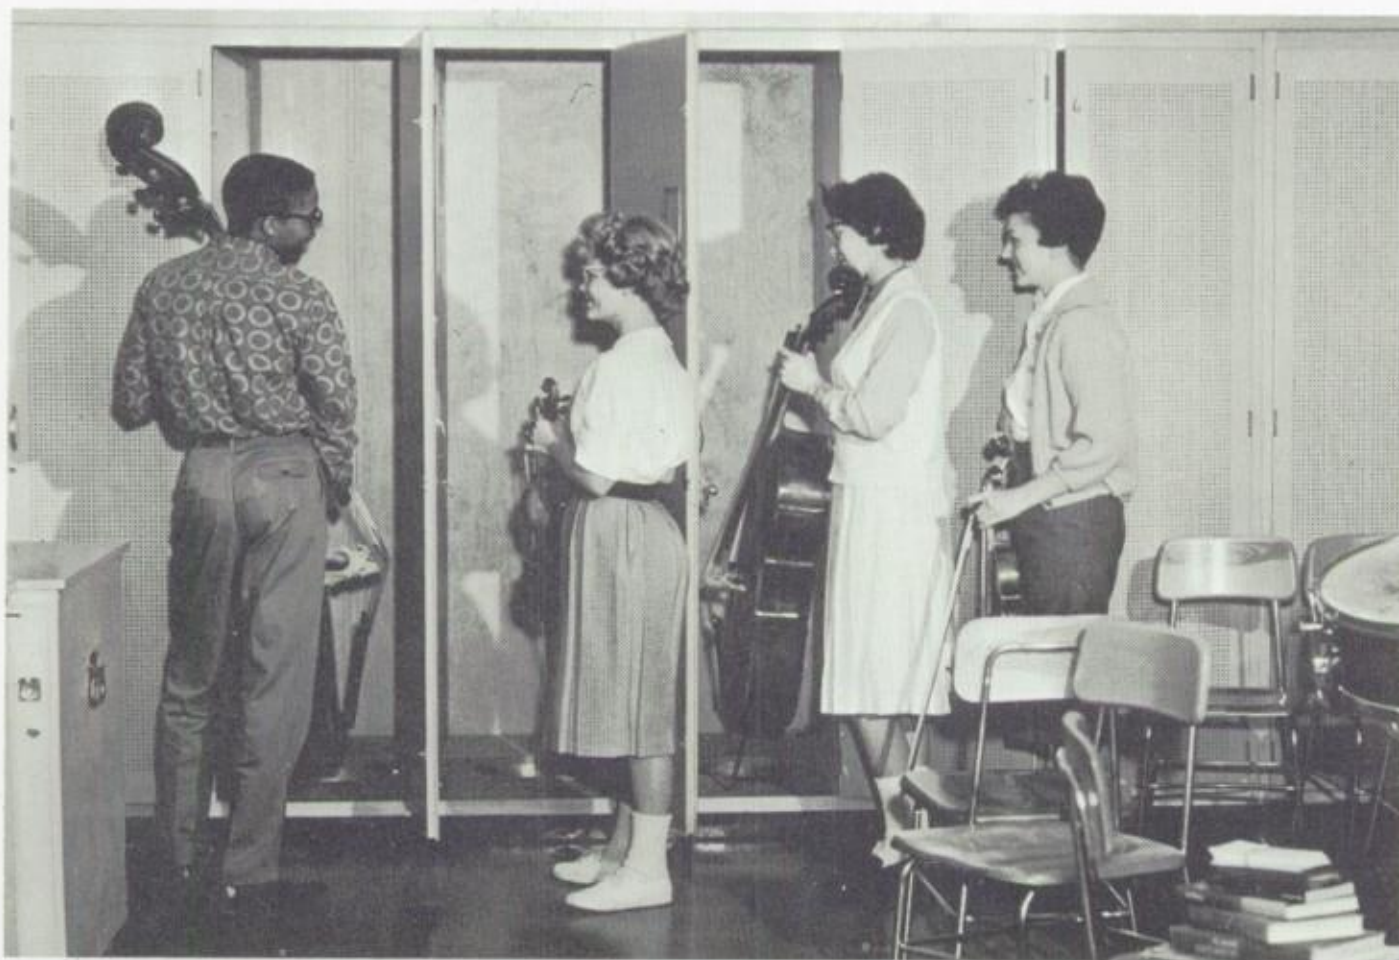

Mr. Ray Roth directs his orchestra class. The Colt marching band and pep band are also directed by Mr. Roth.

A Cappella Choir members Linda Lolli, Karen Carter, Ray Sumley, Joni Duncan, Al Talbot and Dennis Younger sing their best for director Miss Vivian Croke, who also directs girls glee club and mixed chorus.

Satisfying Recreation for Others

Efficient locker rooms allow band and orchestra members to keep their instruments in top condition. Gary Patterson, Carolyn Shupe, Sarah Montgomery, and Ann Cruce show how orchestra members put the lockers to good use.

Orchestra members Carol Knight, Rita Shaw, and Pat Witherspoon use their free hour to practice in a sectional room for a coming concert.

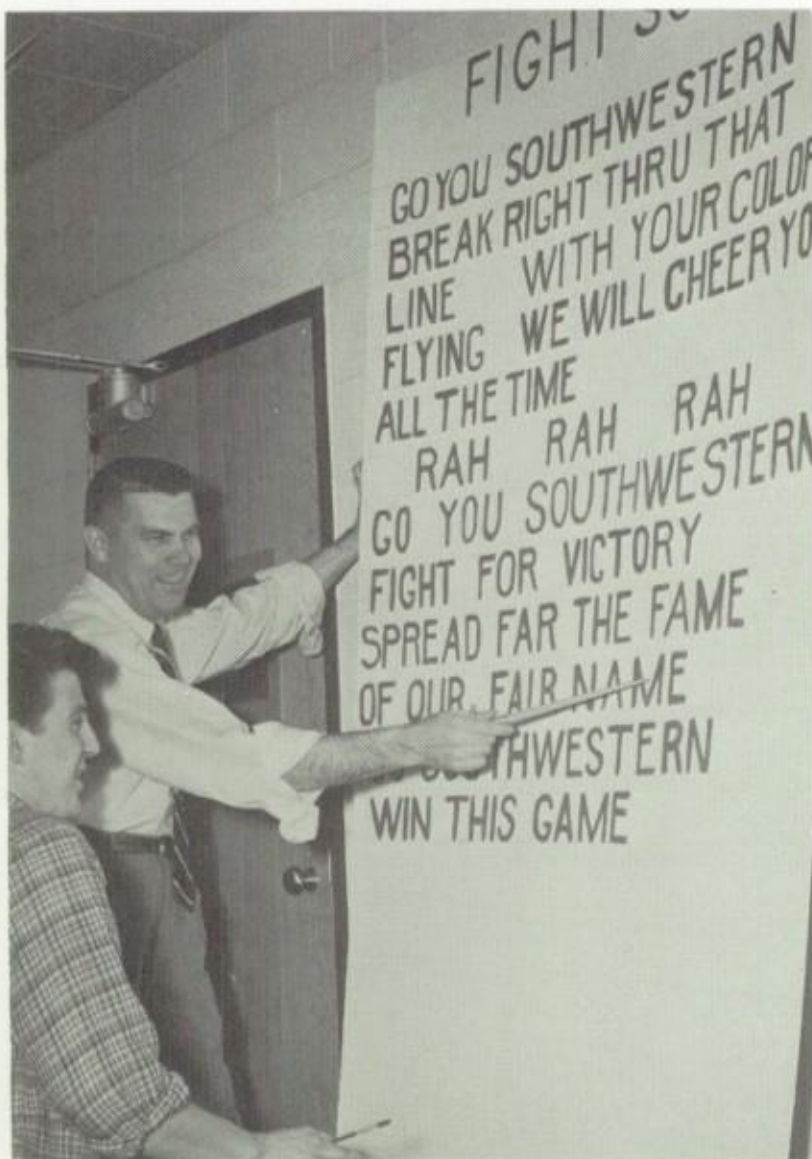

A sectional room is as good a place as any for a singing career to start. Girls Glee Club accompanist Janet Fowler plays for Linda Carpenter, Judy Hahn, Linda Woodard, and Kathy Plasha, members of the Glee Club.

Art Encourages Self-expression,

Mr. Arthur Koskinen and his Art I students discuss their study of lettering.

Hilton Mills and Mr. Koskinen look proudly at the latest project of the advanced art students.

Beginning art students ponder over their first canvas painting.

Teaches Appreciation of Finer Things

An arts and crafts student nears the completion of her mosaic.

Arts and crafts instructor Mr. Joe Blaize shows two of his students the numerous tools they will use in class. Mr. Blaize also teaches woodshop and drafting.

Future Actors and Orators Receive

Ginger Koester, senior drama student, practices her newly acquired knowledge of applying make-up on classmate Jean Card.

Mrs. Nelda Topolka, speech and drama instructor, shows Sharon Robb her costume as Sue Hefley adds the finishing touches to her make-up.

valuable Training, Practical Experience

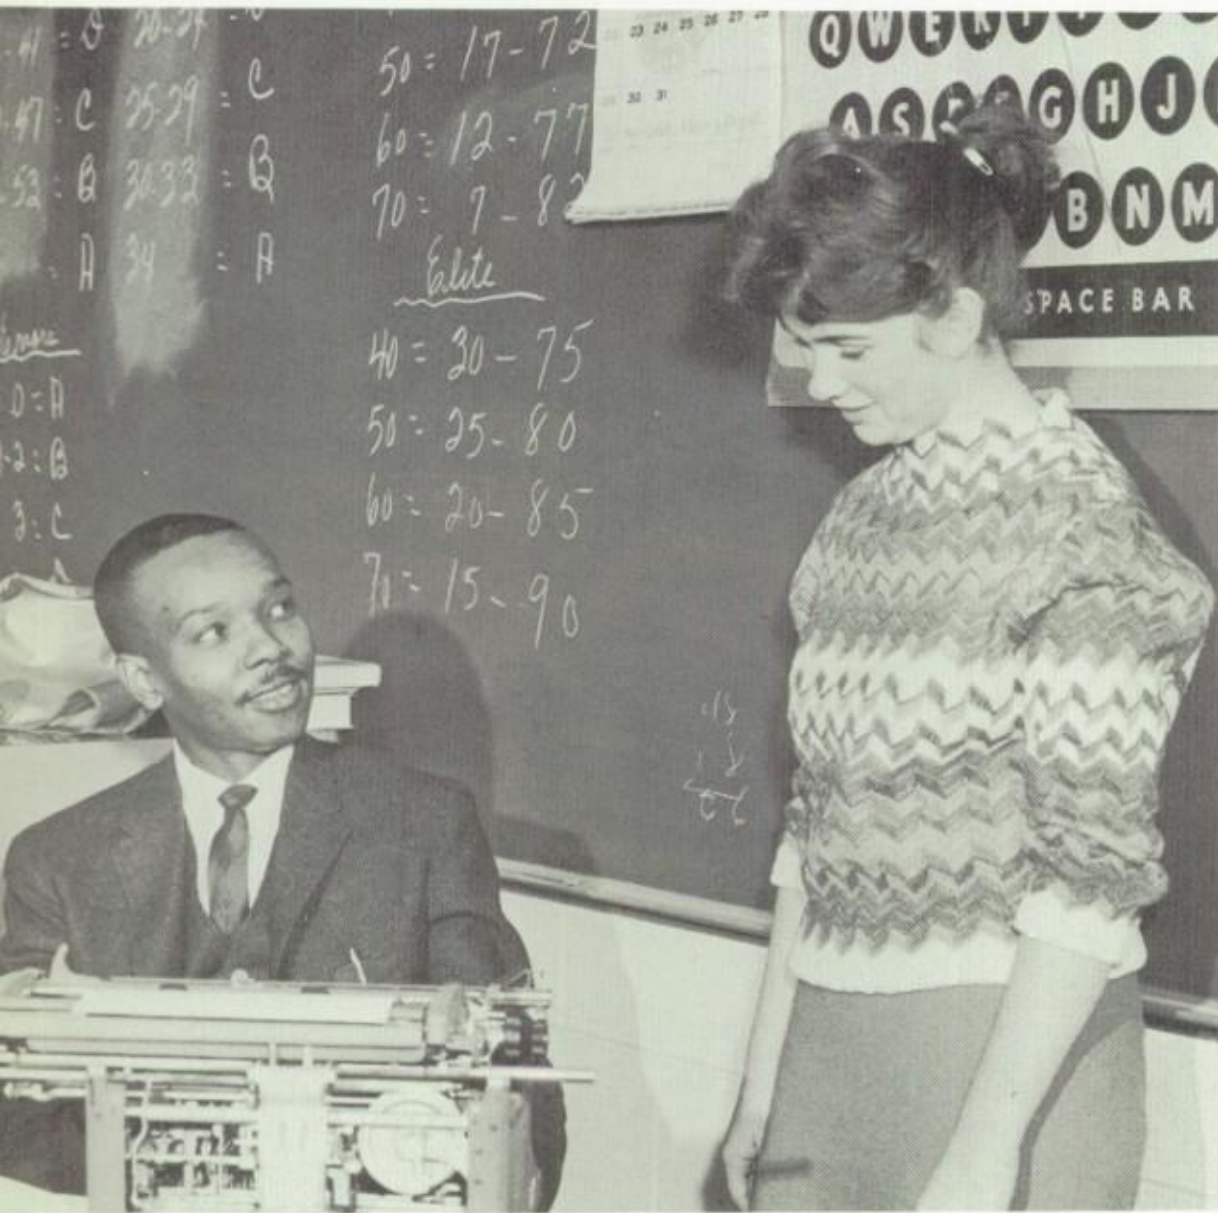

An old melodrama is the subject of this creative scene performed by drama students Gloria Russell, Janey Golden, Richard Fogell, Sheryl Hirsch, Dennis Ujlacky, and Gary Adair.

Showing a student's design for a stage set to drama students is Miss Pamella Bixby, a student teacher from Michigan State University.

Industrious Students Prepare for

Mr. Eugene Grice, who teaches typing and shorthand, shows Sheila Swan the correct starting position for typing.

Retail sales instructor Mr. William Bennett waits on "customer" Beverly Pagel. Mr. Clare Ecklund, typing instructor, watches the procedure.

Promising Future in Business World

Miss Lela Withers, shorthand and typing instructor, and Mrs. Elaine Little, office practice and co-op coordinator, meet to discuss their records.

Mr. George Bland and Mr. Al Gricius, bookkeeping teachers, watch intently as a student recites.

Home Economics, Machine Drawing, Shops

Mr. Homer Randall, machine shop teacher, explains a few things about measuring to student Ray Sumley.

Taking time out from checking a paper together are Mr. Paul Johnson and Jerry Voorhies.

Here comparing pie crusts are homemaking teacher Miss Roberta Bautel and Vera Rodabaugh.

Show Training of the Hands Is Also Vital

"This is the simple way to do it," says Mr. Wilfred Luto, auto shop instructor, as Larry LaVoie and Darell Isham watch with interest.

Mr. Arthur Batten, machine drawing instructor, goes over a drawing before student Lyle Buck turns it in.

Discussing the many promising careers of the future with Donna Fruchery are Miss Sarah Andrews and Mr. Paul Johnson, House B counselors.

Counselors Help Students Prepare for Present and Future

House C counselors Mr. Clare Ecklund and Mr. Stewart Boze check their files for scholarship information.

Mr. John Kohlhepp waits for Miss Katherine Anderson to finish her phone call so that they may discuss the program of a House A student.

Competent Office Staff Keeps Southwestern Running Smoothly

Keeping track of the money that goes in and out of Southwestern is one of the numerous responsibilities of Glotha (Kay) Kippe, chief clerk. Here she is seen going over a receipt book.

Mary English, child accounting clerk, smiles for the photographer in spite of the work piling up around her.

Mrs. Matthews Guards Students' Health

Joe Florida comes to the school nurse, Mrs. Mildred Matthews, with his problems.

Activities

Present Health and Future Plans of Students

College preparatory students gather in the library on Career Day to talk to those who know about the colleges and universities in which they are interested.

Barb Ruddock sets a brave example as she is administered the tuberculin test.

The Flint School System annually presents to their high school students an unusual offering in the Career Carnival, sponsored in cooperation with many well-known colleges and wide-spread industries. Representatives from the various professions and universities this year were again on hand to talk with high school students concerning their respective fields of interest. Printed literature, film strips, and question-answer periods were the order of the day.

An exhibit of many additional vocations was displayed in Wildanger Field House at Northern High High School. Students took advantage of special buses in order to view the exhibits.

Ever alert to the health and physical fitness of the students in all the schools, primary as well as secondary, those at Southwestern, as part of a program which included recording the height, weight, and vision of each student, were asked to participate in the school-wide tuberculin skin tests. Given in November, these tests established, by means of reaction to a serum injected in the blood stream, whether a person is in close contact with someone who has tuberculosis. In the case of a positive reaction, care is taken to trace the active case.

Concern Flint School System

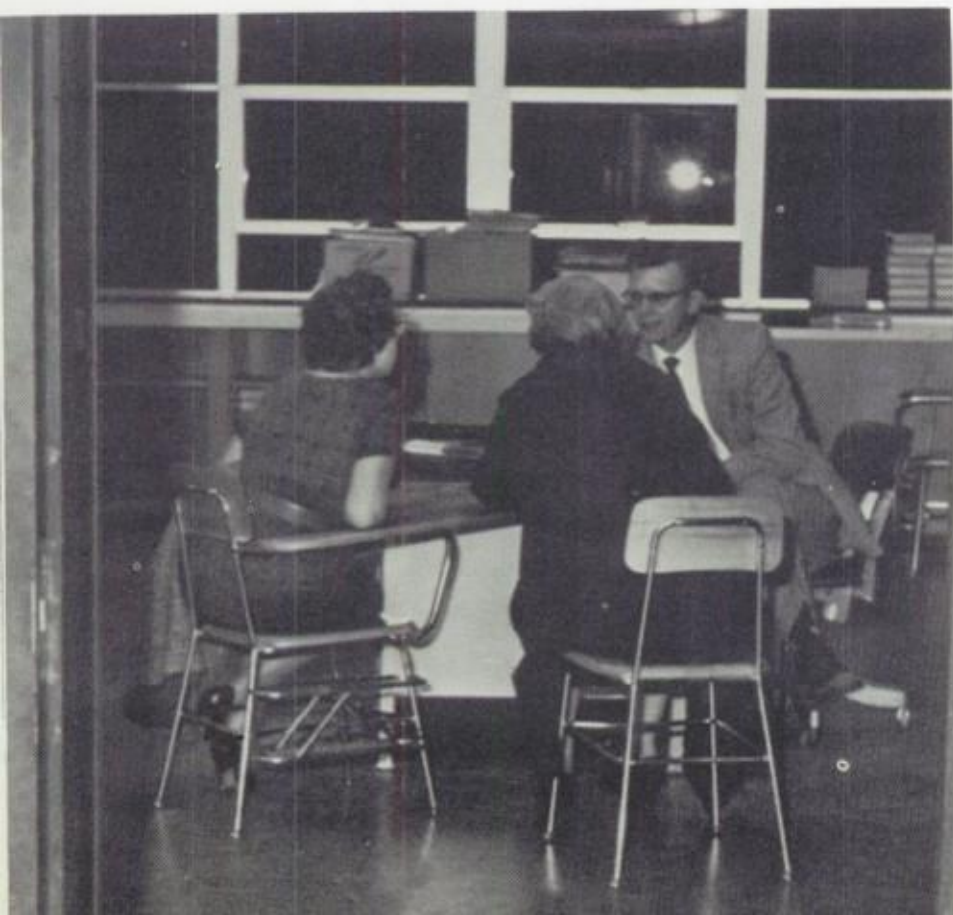

Early in November, the opportunity was presented for all parents to meet with their sons' or daughters' teachers and discuss any problems which might interfere with or hinder the student in his or her academic work as Southwestern held its annual Fall Open House.

Besides the chance to meet with the faculty, parents were able to view much of the school which formerly had not been completed. Our excellent gymnasium and auditorium, as well as the language lab and the T. V. history classrooms were open to the public. Guides were on hand to direct the parents to any part of the building they wished to see, or any classrooms they wanted to visit.

In addition to the parent-teacher meetings, refreshments were served and several of the music groups at Southwestern performed in the auditorium.

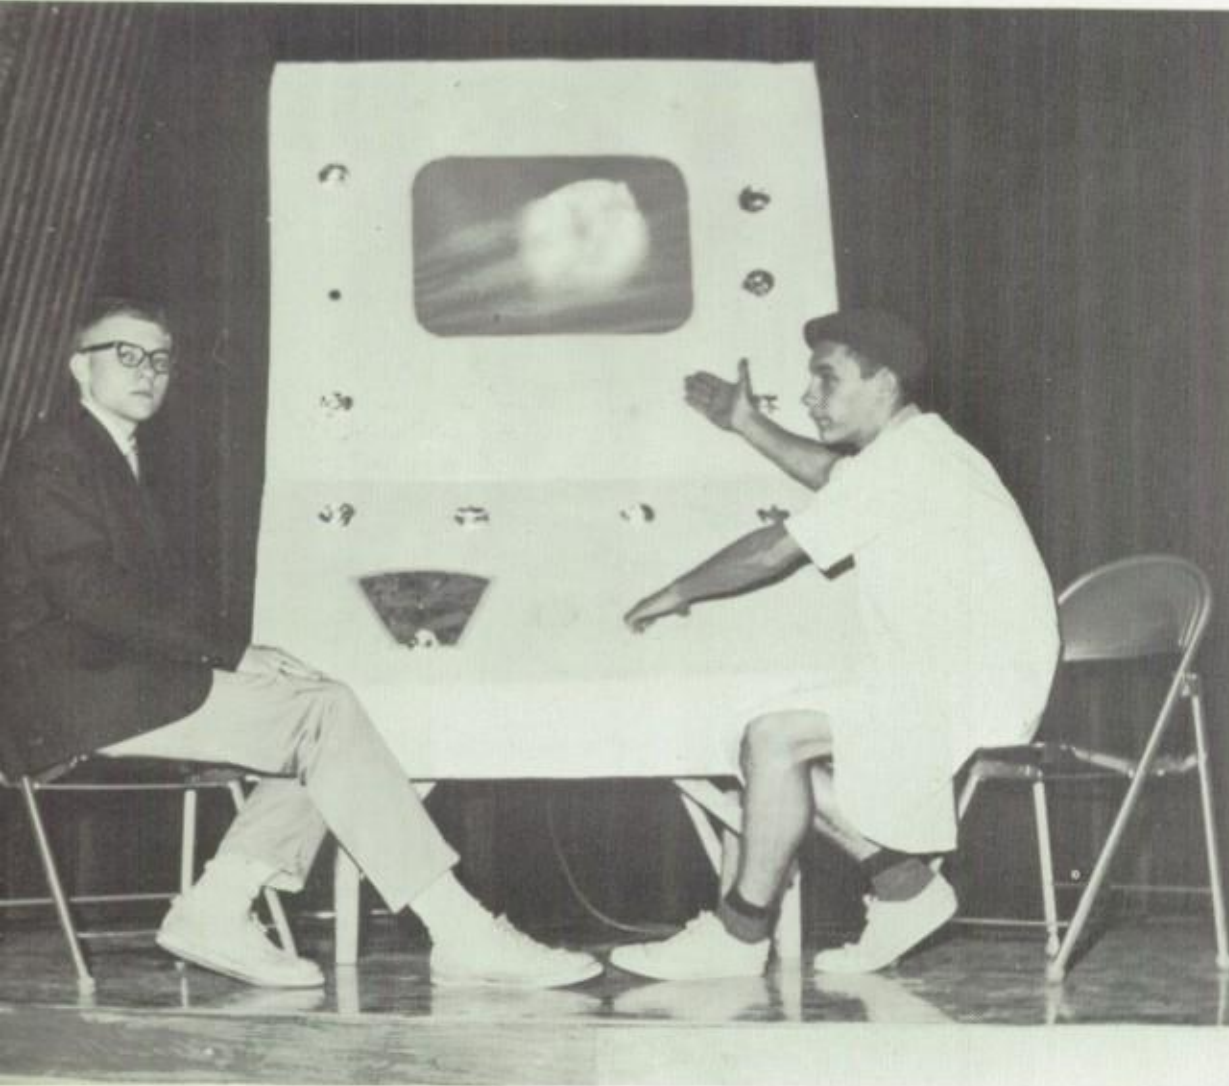

Miss Estelle Bennett shows two interested parents the records of their son's progress.

Mr. Douglas Nietzke talks excitedly about his new debate class with two of his visitors.

"Martian Reflector," First Colt Capers, Praised for Talent

"Nephew" Bruce Teel explains the use of the Martian Reflector to "Uncle" Doug Mayville. The machine brings back from the past all the exciting events of Doug's high school years.

The Faculty Four, a highlight of the show, sings a medley of old-fashioned songs. The quartet includes John Kohlhepp, Garrett Ebmeyer, Ray Roth, and Bob Ellis.

Reed Birnie takes a moment from his fans to pose for the photographer in the auditorium lobby.

and Originality

Mr. Ebmeyer views with interest Dennis Kingley's efforts at make-up.

Borrowing from Shakespeare, Rick Spafford, as Romeo, speaks to Lorry Goldman, his substitute Juliet, who listens eagerly.

"My baby loves me," explains Ken Methven to raccoon-coated Pat Meyers, while "baby" Sue Brockway demonstrates.

"White Christmas"

A white Christmas tree trimmed in blue and a special visit from Santa Clause were the highlights of this year's Christmas dance, "White Christmas." Glittering blue letters on white paper diamonds ten feet in height spelled out the name of the affair. The Student Union dance was held Thursday evening, December 22, in the school cafeteria from 8:30 to 11:30. Bob Shepardson's band furnished the music. Mid-way through, Santa Claus arrived in a bright red sleigh drawn by several faithful students, and had candy for all. Punch and cookies were served throughout the evening in the Community Room.

Yuletide Season Time for Happy Surprises, Glittering Dances, Dignified Greetings

"Pineapple!" beams Mr. Joe Roberson. The life-saver tree and the genuine pineapple were given to Mr. Roberson by Mr. George LeBrasseur and students. In all, six cartons of lifesavers were used to decorate the tree. These should be sufficient to keep Mr. Roberson supplied until June.

This merry greeting to all of Flint from all of Southwestern was designed and constructed by the art classes of the school. Red letters on the green roof made this giant-size Christmas card even brighter.

Continuation of Education, Broadening of President Steve Kelly is conducting the meeting.

Knowledge Ideals of Many Organizations

The Envoys, Southwestern's social studies club, strives to gain an understanding and appreciation of other countries and to acquire a better comprehension of the United States' role as a world leader. Meetings are held every two weeks, during which Americans and people from other countries tell of experiences abroad and of their native lands, respectively. The speakers this year have talked of travel, study, living, and teaching in Europe, New Zealand, Brazil, Japan, and two countries of Africa. Officers: Richard Case, President; Steve Hersey, Vice-president; Mary Ellen Cheney, Secretary-Treasurer; Miss Rita Hinch, faculty advisor.

Mr. David Sisson shows slides from his European tour to the Envoys Sue Graham, Faith Diefenbach, Phyllis Smith, Bill Wilbanks, Sandra Putt, Margaret Traycik, Charles Case, Jill McCoy and Mary Ellen Cheney.

Combine to Build School Spirit

"Get your shakers here!" Teenee Hoeffgen and Marilyn Thomas decide to help Pep Club out by buying one from Jerry Meadows and Ron Hutchinson.

Pep assemblies are a vital part of team spirit. Mr. Dick Leach's speech and Pep Club's sign "Scalp the Indians" serve as inspiration.

"Naughty, naughty, mustn't do, that's another foul on you," say Dotsy Graff, Connie Boylan, Pam Corson, Sue Morris, Sandy Schwartz, and Sue Lebster.

"C'mon, team, FIGHT!" This year some Central cheerleaders came to one of our pep assemblies and led a few cheers. Ovell Barbe, Reed Birnie, Barry Saunders, Jim Cote, Larry Smith, Frank Mercy, Art Tallman.

Colts Bested Only by

Southwestern, with a 3-4-2 record, suffered its first losing football season, but its defeats came at the hands of Michigan's first, second, eighth and ninth rated teams. It also staged an encouraging finish to give the Colts hopes for a fast Saginaw Valley Conference start in 1961.

A hint as to what was ahead came early in pre-season practice. Ovell Barbee and Hamp Morris suffered injuries and Mike Holmes was hit by illness. Barbee was hampered all season and Morris didn't regain top form until the last few games. Holmes missed the opener.

The Colts got off on the right foot, battling from behind three times to edge Kearsley, 28-25. George Skaff's late touchdown and Carl Kowalczyk's four conversions provided the edge.

Southwestern then lost to the two top-rated teams in the state, 20-0 at Bay City Central and 39-12 to Flint Northern. Holmes was a defensive standout despite the loss at Bay City, and Harry Campbell and Roger Elford scored against Northern.

State's Top Teams

Skaff, completing 11 of 17 passes, and Elford, scoring twice, led a 28-7 comeback over Muskegon Heights.

The Blue and White lost, 37-13, in a disastrous last half against Flint Central, then was held to a 0-0 at Owosso.

From that point on, the Colts gave a good account of themselves. With less than two minutes to play they tied Pontiac Central, 7-7, on a Skaff-to-Morris TD pass and Morris' conversion. Then came a 12-7 mud-bowl victory over Muskegon Catholic Central on two touchdowns by Ricky Johnson. Johnson and Dennis Lumsden scored in a valiant effort to upset Midland in a bruising finale only to have the Chem-ics win, 26-14.

Most valuable player award went to Gary Porritt, and Ken Walker was honored as the top defender and most improved player.

Colt Harriers Take Second in State

This year's cross country team was fortunate to have both the ability and desire to attain the heights that they did. The entire season was a credit to Coach George LeBrasseur and his team.

The Colt harriers opened their season with a triangular meet in which they defeated Flint Northern and Bay City Central. In this meet Doug Sutherland set the school record of 10:22.1. This victory was followed closely by a win over Saginaw. The Colts then traveled to the Hastings Invitionals where they placed second in a field of twenty teams. They then beat Flint Central in a dual meet, but lost the city meet to Central. Next came wins over Midland and Saginaw Arthur Hill. The Harriers then acquired for Southwestern their first Saginaw Valley Championship and the next week won the regional title for the second year in a row. The Colts' season then reached its peak as they placed second in the state meet which included one hundred schools. This brought the season to a clase. It also brought to a close the cross country careers of six seniors.

Chester Harris finishes third in the city meet. In spite of an ankle injury, Chester was the first Colt runner to finish.

In its last season as an independent team before beginning Saginaw Valley competition next winter, the Colt varsity basketball team was impressive in compiling a 13-5 overall record and taking a district championship in the state tournament. The season was highlighted by the frantic finishes of the last two games with city-rival Flint Northern and a series of record-breaking performances against Owosso and Flint Central.

The cagers opened their season with a 69-62 loss to highly rated Jackson. The Colts bounced back at the next game with a 71-57 victory over Midland and then coasted through out-city competition without a loss. In the process of defeating Midland, Alpena, Owosso, and Bay City Handy twice each and Pontiac Waterford and Bay City Central once each, the Colts carried on their tradition of never having been beaten on their home floor.

City competition told a different story as the Colt's won only once in four tries in their quest for the city championship. In a very well-played series opener against Central at Ballenger Field House, the Colts got off to a cold start and never caught up. Central won that game by a score of 76-72. The second game against Central was even more disastrous as Central won 60-45.

Against Northern the Colts had a little more luck. After losing the first game to the Vikings 47-43, the Colts came back for a 58-57 victory in the final seconds.

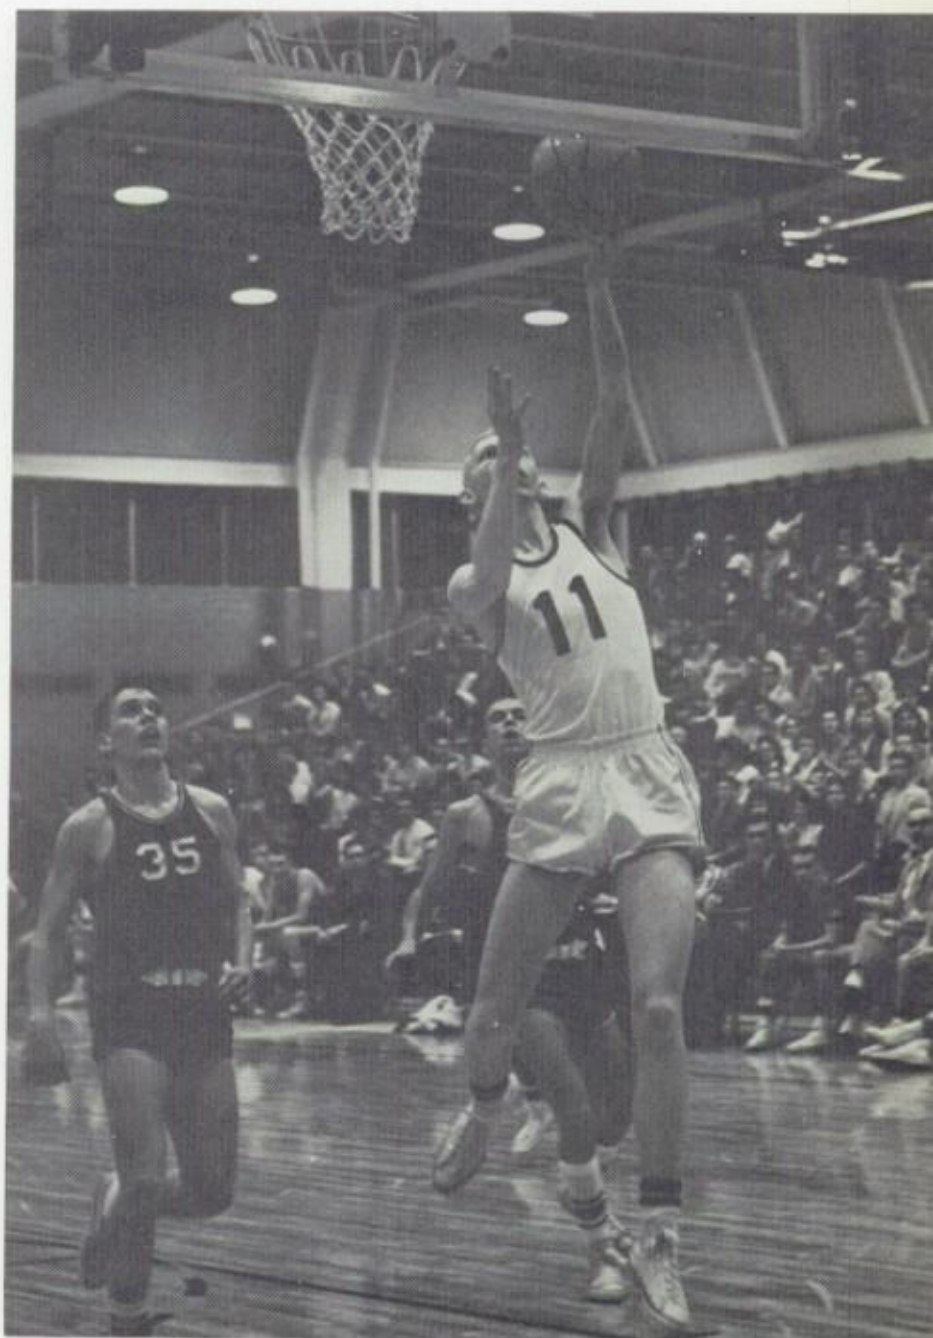

Tournament-wise the Colts did very well in defeating Northern (52-51) and Owosso (91-71) for a District Championship before losing to Central (80-76) in the Regionals. In the District finals against Owosso, two Colt varsity records were set as the team compiled a new team high. Jim Yuille pumped in twenty-six points for a new individual high.

"Get up there," yells Merv Rettenmund (25) to teammate Larry Lavoie (22) while Harold Brabbs (11) stands by to offer assistance.

Junior Varsity Basketball

Depth and the ability to come up with the right combination at the right time were a few factors which helped the Southwestern junior varsity basketball team uphold the fine Colt tradition.

The fifteen man squad, composed of ten juniors and five sophomores, opened strong by winning their first six games. They ran into a little trouble in the middle of the season, but they ironed out their difficulties and came on to finish the season with a record of twelve wins and only three defeats.

The junior varsity, with sound coaching and advice from Mr. Joe Roberson, improved immensely over the season and promises many skilled players for the varsity next year.

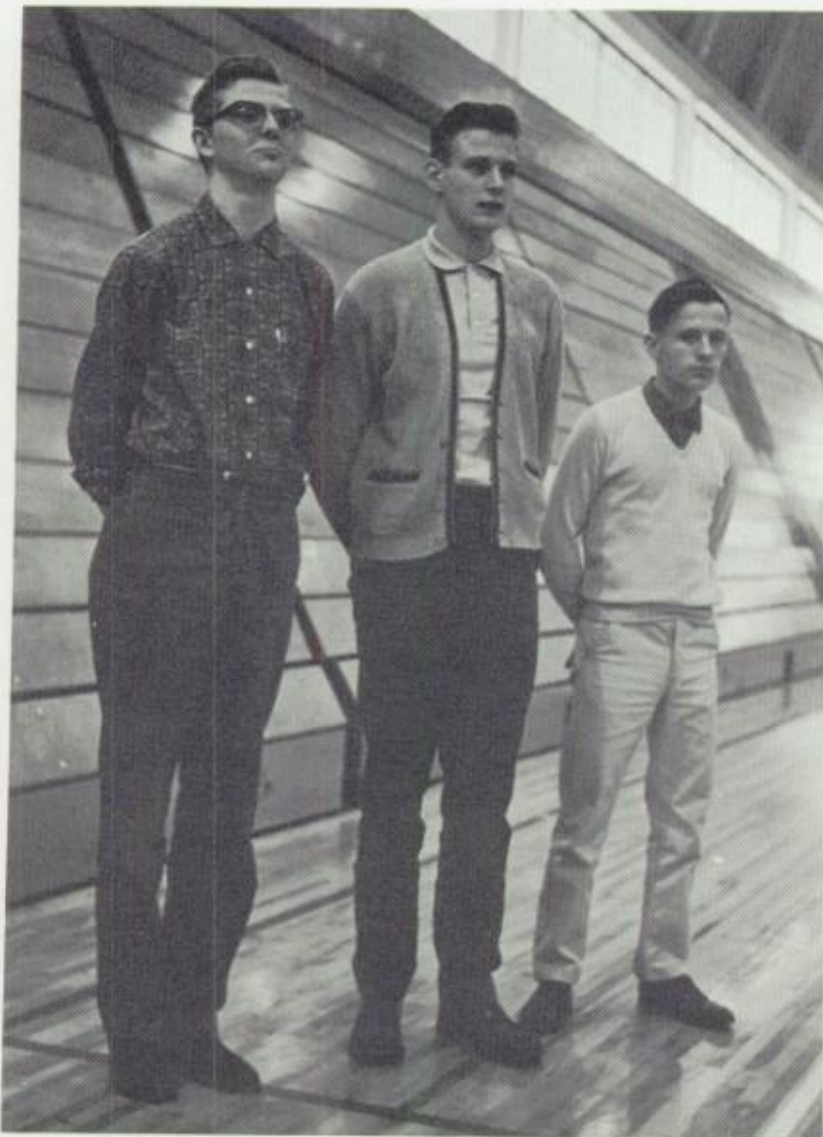

Despite the many hands on the ball, John Ferrol (23) has it without a doubt. Tyrone Maynie watches for the quick pass.

Improvement through hard work was the theme for this year's wrestling team. Patience and persistence on the part of Coach Ken Garner and his squad showed the right kind of results in the won-lost column. This year's 2-7 record bears the earmarks of progress in the right direction when compared to last year's 1-8 mark.

The graduation of co-captains Ovell Barbee and Reed Birnie, both of whom qualified for the state tournament, will be the greatest loss among the five departing seniors on this year's squad.

The nucleus of next year's team will be the eight returning lettermen supplemented by a JV squad that posted a 2-1 record this season. The matmen have the room for improvement and the necessary material, add to this that all-important desire, and you have a combination that will build a notorious winning tradition.

Tankers Show Vast, Valuable Improvement

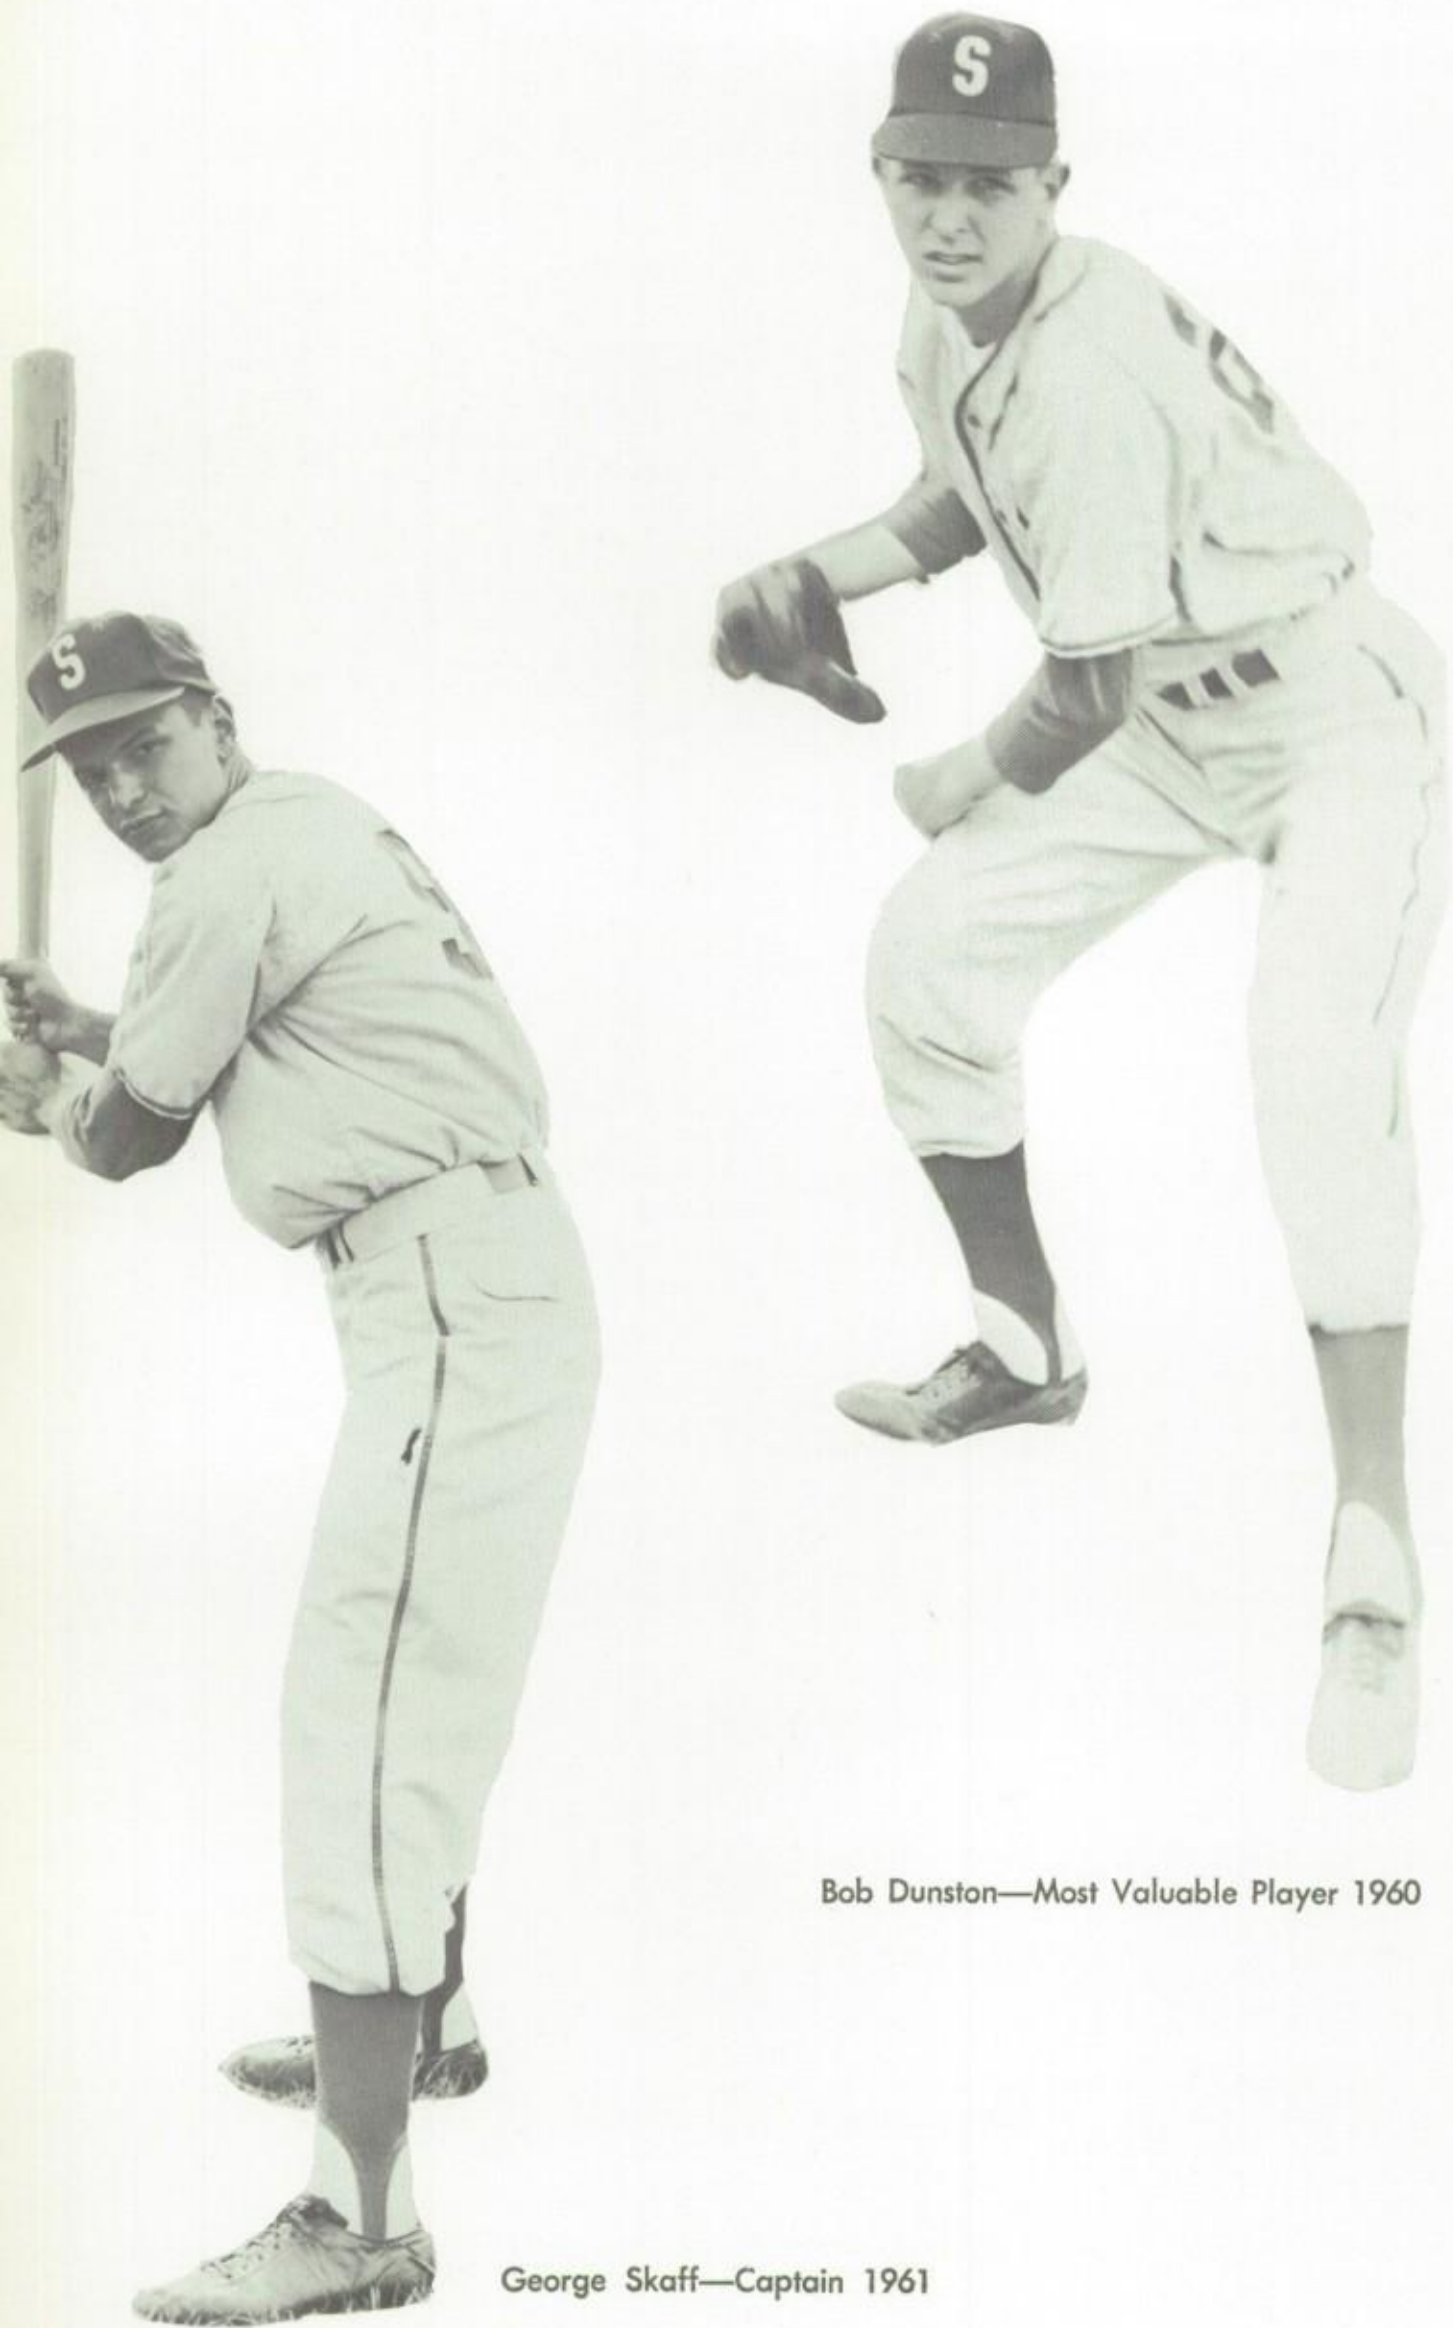

The Southwestern high school swimming team under the coaching of Alex Crane was generally considered to have completed a relatively successful season. Although all of the dual clashes were lost to their foes, one must consider that this was the first year the team has had its own pool for practice and home meets. This along with the fact that a good swimming team takes many years to build and that we have already improved over last year, has raised confidence among the faculty and the student body that in succeeding years Southwestern will produce championship teams.

1960 Colt Baseball

The 1960 Southwestern varsity baseball team was considered a cinderella team. Coach Dick Leach put together the first baseball team here at Southwestern and they produced a fine 13-5 record and the City Baseball Championship. The highlight of the Colt baseball season was a twin victory over Central to win the City Championship trophy.

The leading hitter on the 1960 Colt baseball squad was George Skaff (3B) who had a fine .482 batting average and Skaff was elected the captain of the 1961 baseball team. Walter Franklin (SS) led the team with the most R.B.I.'s, triples, and homeruns. Freeman McGregor (LF), a first year man, ended the season with a slugging .461 average. Bob Dunston (P) headed the mound staff with seven victories and was selected the Most Valuable Player.

This year the young Colts will be competing in the Saginaw Valley. Coach Leach loses twelve men from the 1960 team and he will greet five returning lettermen led by Capt. George Skaff, Merv Rettenmund, Mike McFee, Gary Porritt, and Dick Shupe. Up from last year's J.V. squad will be Jerry Minarik, Mike Beito, Dan Felt, Carl Kowalczyk, Roger Wozniak, Mike Clary, Jim Yuille, and Bill Rittenberry. Promising sophomore prospects are Bobby Reed and Carl Cmejrek.

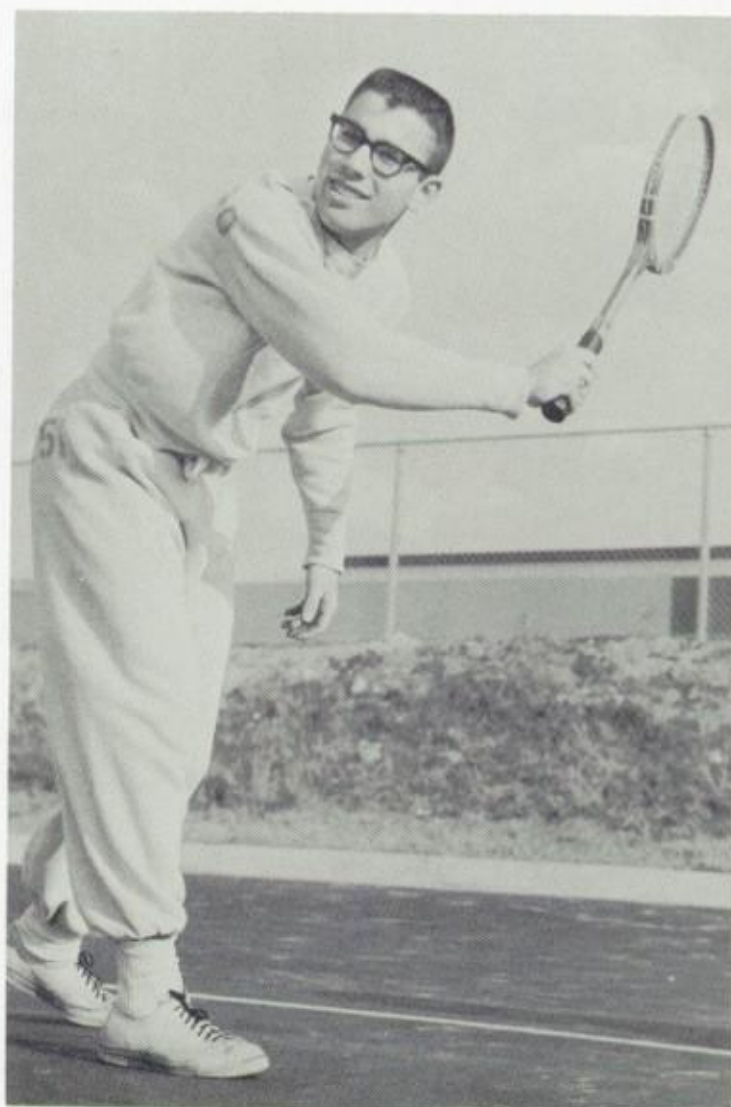

The Junior Varsity baseball team was coached by Joe Roberson. They finished the season with a respectable record of 4 wins and 8 losses. The Colt yearlings were led by the hitting of Jerry Minarik, Jim Yuille, Tyrone Maynie, and Mike Clary. Some of the top defensive players were Dan Felt, Mike Beito, Carl Kowalczyk, and Bill Rittenberry. The top pitching prospects are Roger Wozniak, Bob Pierce, and Mike Beito.

Netters Hope To Set Winning Tradition

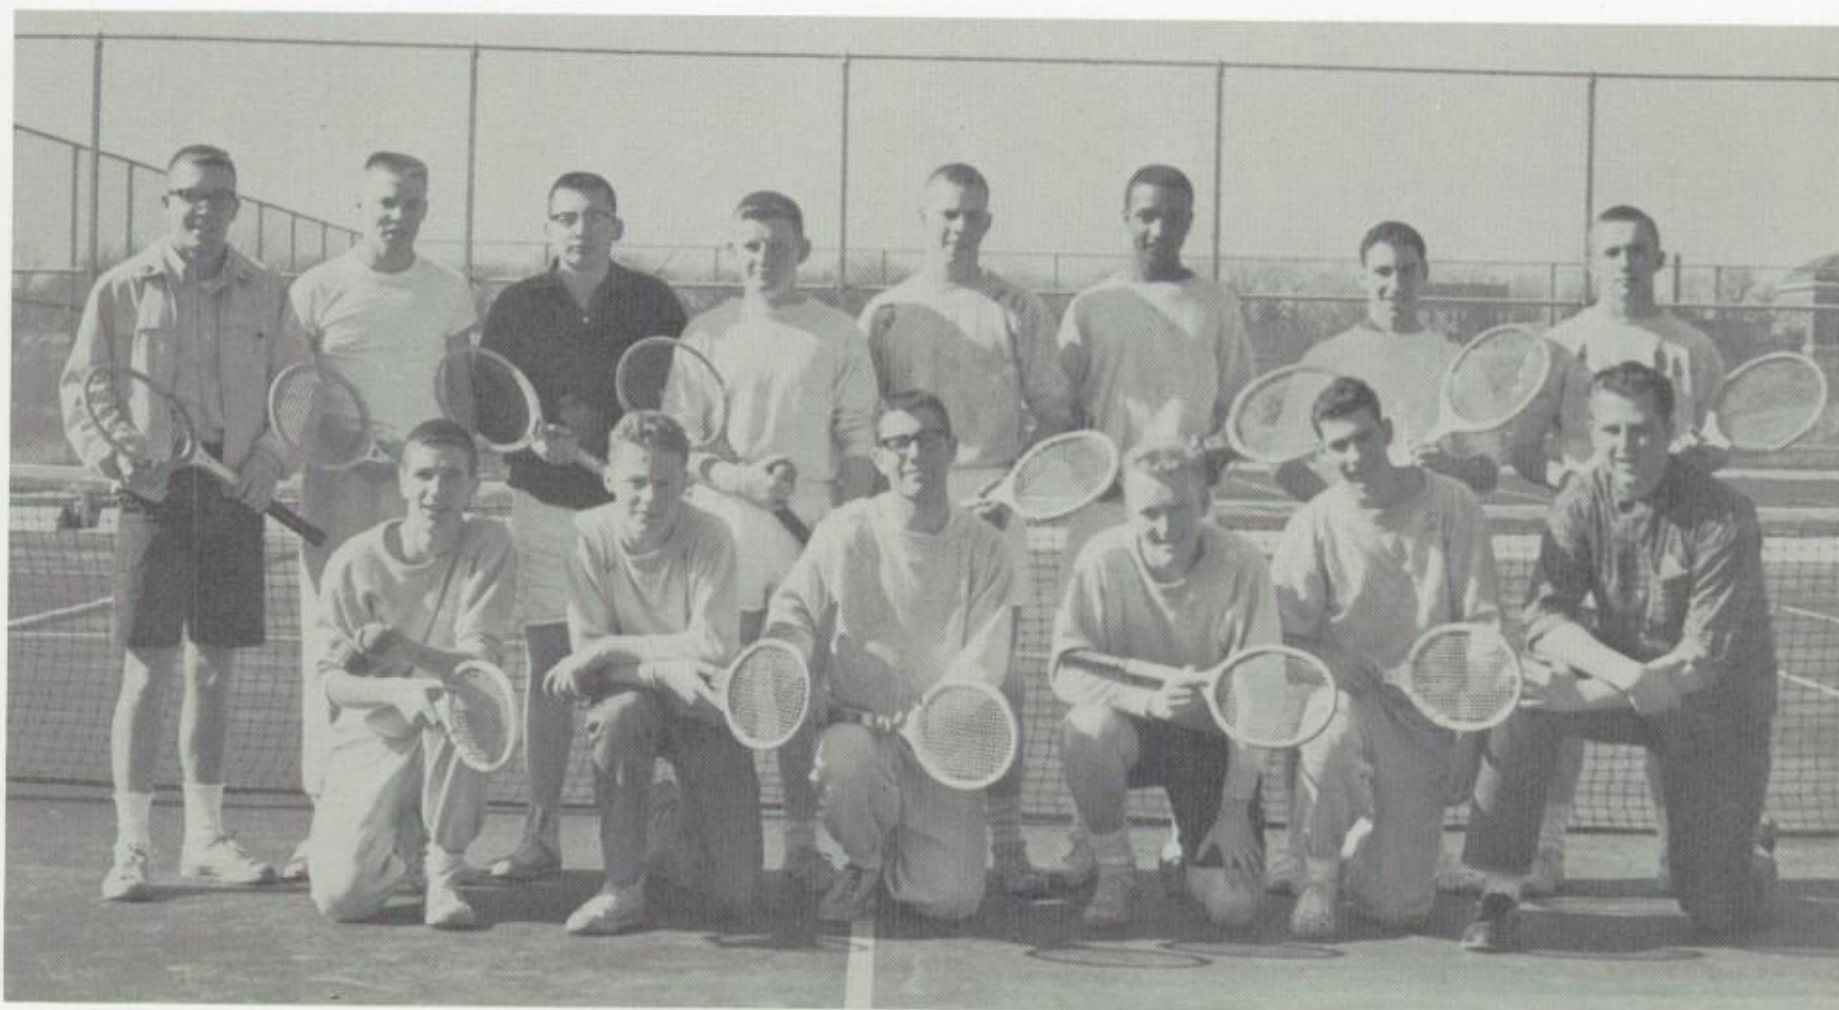

A new tradition began at Southwestern this spring as the tennis team took to its home courts for the first time. Varsity competition in tennis began last year but the netters were hampered by the fact that they had no courts and were forced to migrate across town to practice.

The tennis team officially enters the Saginaw Valley this year under the direction of Coach Al Gricius. Hopes for a successful season are high as the team looks forward to the performances of three returning lettermen and a barrage of newcomers to the varsity. The returning lettermen, Dick Irwin and Dennis Riker, co-captains, and Ted Golden, are all seniors. Seniors John Goldner, Fred James, and John Mitchell, juniors Ricky Crooms, Vaughn De Crauza, and George Washburn, and sophomores Bruce Saltman, Jerry Ball, and Mike Cheney are all strong contenders for the nine-man varsity squad.

Looking back on the success of last year's team against Valley competition plus the added advantage of home courts where they play both Central and Northern gives evidence that the Colts should be a contender for both the Saginaw Valley and city-title crowns. This in turn gives evidence that this new tradition at Southwestern will be a winning tradition.

Ted Golden practices on the newly completed tennis courts in back of Southwestern.

1960 Golfers Take Eighth in State

After a successful first season last year which included fourteen wins, one loss, and eighth in the state final golf tournament, this year will be a building year for Southwestern's golf team. The lone returning letterman is senior Chuck Siple. He is joined with senior Dennis Lumsden, junior Jay Berthiaume, and sophomores Paul Topolka, Steve Braun, and John Wetherbee. The boys, at this time, show promise and should comprise the varsity squad. Others who are vying for positions are juniors Allan Cox, Ryland Harwood, Lyall Buck, Vic Potter, Ron Lintz, and sophomore John Nash. If the boys develop well, Southwestern should have another successful season.

Seniors Put Aside Carefree Years As They Face the Future With Anxious Anticipation

This year's seniors have come from other schools and joined together to produce a wonderful senior year. It is solely to their credit that they have forgotten past loyalties and merged to find here new and exciting times, treasures of memories which must be put away but not forgotten.

The friends they have made, the guidance they have received, and the knowledge they have acquired will stand them in good stead, as, with commencement, the seniors put behind them carefree high school years and step forward to take their places in society as mature, responsible adults.

Barb,

As the sand runs from the upper part of the thing on this page another school year comes to a close. This year as last has been full of stress and strains as well as fun.
Please stay the way you are now and you will always have a boy friend.
Best of luck this summer and don't forget me while you are on your trip.
Once again I say
It has been loads of fun.

All my love,

"61 1/2" Gail
Boyd

Undergraduates

P.S.

I hope at this time next year we can graduate the same kind of friends
we are now!

To establish high ideals in citizenship, to strive for high academic standards, and to instill a spirit of sportsmanship in our students are our primary aims. Our Junior Class, which will be the first to spend its entire high school days at Southwestern, is doing an admirable job in all of these areas. These are the areas that will become traditional at our school. Class President Jerry Meadows, Vice-President Sue Morris, and Secretary Mary Richardson meet to discuss some of the ways in which the Junior Class can best contribute to the good of the individual student, the class, and the school.

Enthusiastic Undergrads Caught Up in Myriad of Activities

The two older classes at Southwestern are indeed proud of our Sophomore Class. They come to us in the Fall with the awe that seems to be characteristic of the Junior High student coming to the Senior High School. However, they quickly entered into the feeling of being part of our school. They, too, are contributing in the areas that will prove to be very beneficial to us, and have fast become an integral part of Southwestern and its program. Class President Doug Fraser, Vice-President Ron Hutchinson, and Secretary Jo Ann Spears talk about the contributions the school has made to their growth, and how they best can help the school.

Listening attentively to the nursing representative at Career Day are these sophomore girls.

Time Has Run Out for Class of '61; Class of '62 Ready to Take Over

Second Graduating Class Faces Future

To the class of '62, we, the class of '61, leave our past memories to enjoy, decisions to abide by, and our mistakes to learn from. We will to you the heritage we have found in our high school years and the opportunity for the acquisition of knowledge which is offered here. May you find the paths of life easier because of those who have gone before you.
